

Florence Chadwick's Day

Hi! As our big day draws nearer, my mail box brings more and more messages of good luck from people in Victoria.

The mail man dropped off a couple of items you might like to hear about. They typify the kindness to which I have been treated in my stay here.

First of all, let me read you a few lines from a letter I received from people who signed themselves "A family of admirers." I can sincerely say it is the most moving letter I have ever received and one that I shall always treasure.

The letter explains that the family has watched a number of my workouts and have become convinced that I will be successful in swimming the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

The letter goes on to say: "As you have so often said, 'God willing, I will make it; you will make it and you will be sustained by that greater something which has always been a part of your life and which has guided you throughout your whole career.'"

"We know you will make it and we all will be watching you as you take off for I will be pulling right with you, every stroke of the way."

A letter like that hits you somewhere and gives a terrific lift to your spirits. Not knowing the names of the people who wrote the letter, I am unable to thank them properly. But right now, I want to extend all my thanks for the wonderful message.

The other item came in an odd-shaped box and I was mighty curious when I unwrapped it. You can imagine how surprised I was when I opened the box and found it packed full of genuine four-leaf clovers. I didn't know there were that many in the world.

A little poem that accompanied the clovers said that there was one for every mile of the way from here to Port Angeles.

Again, all my thanks.

37 Saved as Airliner Crash Lands in Field

PRESTON, Conn. (UP)—An Air France luxury super-constellation made a crash landing today in a potato patch and burst into flames. But all 37 passengers and crew escaped death.

About 30 passengers and crew members were taken to nearby Norwich, Conn., for hospital examination and treatment. The hospital said most of them were given first aid and released, but "five or six" would require hospitalization. None of the injuries was regarded as critical.

The four-motor plane was flying from Paris to New

Italian Party Tops K2

2nd Highest Peak Scaled

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—An Italian mountain-climbing expedition, which today has conquered 28,520-foot K2—Mt. Godwin Austin—the world's second-highest peak—and, since the conquest of Everest, the globe's highest unclimbed mountain.

The message received here said the victory was scored on July 31 but did not name the expedition member or members who reached the top.

The successful ascent was made in spite of the death from pneumonia on June 21 of Mario Puchos, considered the expedition's strongest member. He was buried near the grave of an American climber, Arthur Gilkey, killed in an unsuccessful attempt by a U.S. expedition to reach the peak last year.

ONLY EVEREST HIGHER

Only 752 feet lower than Everest, K2 is the highest peak in the main range of the Karakoram mountain system across north Kashmir.

It has been a target of climbers since the Duke of Abruzzi led an expedition there in 1909. Four Americans perished in an attempt to climb it in 1930.

By their feat, the Italian climbers beat to the top a determined American who has tried unsuccessfully twice to reach the summit. He is Dr. Charles S. Houston of Exeter, N.H.

Houston first led an expedition to K2 in 1938. He also headed last year's American expedition, which reached 26,000 feet before a blinding blizzard turned it back. Last February Pakistan granted him permission to try again in 1953.

3 German Firm Members at Valdmanis Hearing

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Three representatives of the German machine company Dr. Alfred Valdmanis are accused of defrauding appeared as prosecution witnesses Monday at the long-delayed opening of his preliminary hearing.

The Crown thus launched its case against the 47-year-old Latvian-born economic expert more than three months after he was arrested in St. Andrews, N.B., and charged with defrauding the Newfoundland government and the German firm of $420,000. He allegedly engineered the swindle while serving as chief of provincial economic development.

The preliminary hearing is being held privately because Newfoundland courts apply the law that permits magistrates in most parts of the Commonwealth to bar the press from such initial proceedings.

The only witness to be fully identified Monday was Herbert Marx.

More Pictorial Highlights of Duke's Visit

PGE AWARDS FIRST JOB ON NEW LINK

Emil Anderson Construction Co. today was awarded a $1,255,567 contract for construction of seven and one-half miles of the southern PGE extension for Britannia to Squamish.

PGE construction committee members Einar Gunderson and Railway Minister Ralph Chetwynd said construction will start immediately. Emil Anderson was the lowest of six construction firms which submitted bids on the rail link.

Flanked by Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe and high-ranking Aluminum Co. of Canada officials, His Royal Highness inspected the 750-foot-long, 14-story high powerhouse (ultimately to be the world's largest) now humming deep in the innards of Mount DuBose.

The mountain perpetuates the name of the Alcan vice-president, McNeely DuBose, who sparked the $200,000,000 Kemano-Klittat project which was to cast its first aluminum ingot this afternoon.

The Duke was scheduled to see the great smelters at Klittat late this afternoon, before flying to Sandspit, in the Queen Charlottes, and then to Vancouver to attend the British Empire Games.

After viewing the great powerhouse, he penetrated farther into the mountain, through supply tunnels, to see the tremendous bore that carries the waters of an empire 10 miles to turn the giant turbines.

Accompanying the Duke on his subterranean tour, in addition to Mr. Howe, were R. E. Powell, president of Alcan, and Nathaniel V. Davis, handsome youthful chief of Alcan's parent, Aluminium Ltd. Secretary of State Lester B. Pearson, scheduled to be here, was not present.

The Duke motored the 11 miles from Kemano wharf to the powerhouse entrance. His

ATTENDANCE DOWN

At a board of directors' meeting this morning it was decided that, due to very poor attendance at home this season, the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Club Ltd. could not carry on further, club president Arthur Cox told The Times today.

Thus, Victoria joins Calgary and Spokane on the sidelines. Calgary and Spokane encountered financial difficulties earlier this season and as a consequence dropped from the league in June.

Club directors made no announcement today regarding the books of tickets covering remaining home games sold recently at a reduced price. It was reported by one director an announcement would be made Wednesday.

Mr. Cox said that league president Bob Abel had been notified that due to unfavorable circumstances the Victoria club has been forced to forfeit their franchise to the league.

The action is immediate and there will be no game tonight or in the future here.

FANS THANKED

Mr. Cox said "the directors regret very much being forced to take this step" and thanked fans and others who assisted the club.

He said "there is just not sufficient money to carry on," and added the directors are grateful for the job done by manager Don Pries.

Tyees had only five home games in June, due to city outside workers' strike and the loss of Calgary and Spokane to the league.

While the strike was in effect, Tyees switched some home games to Vancouver and worked on a percentage basis. Another series was transferred to Wenatchee, and attendance there was so low that money was lost.

Inspects Huge Alcan Hydro in Mountain

By DAVE STOCK, Times Staff Reporter

KEMANO — A monstrous man-made cavern in the heart of a mountain awed the Duke of Edinburgh today during a brief visit to this dying construction camp among British Columbia's spectacular fjords.

Flanked by Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe and high-ranking Aluminum Co. of Canada officials, His Royal Highness inspected the 750-foot-long, 14-story high powerhouse (ultimately to be the world's largest) now humming deep in the innards of Mount DuBose.

The mountain perpetuates the name of the Alcan vice-president, McNeely DuBose, who sparked the $200,000,000 Kemano-Klittat project which was to cast its first aluminum ingot this afternoon.

The Duke was scheduled to see the great smelters at Klittat late this afternoon, before flying to Sandspit, in the Queen Charlottes, and then to Vancouver to attend the British Empire Games.

After viewing the great powerhouse, he penetrated farther into the mountain, through supply tunnels, to see the tremendous bore that carries the waters of an empire 10 miles to turn the giant turbines.

Accompanying the Duke on his subterranean tour, in addition to Mr. Howe, were R. E. Powell, president of Alcan, and Nathaniel V. Davis, handsome youthful chief of Alcan's parent, Aluminium Ltd. Secretary of State Lester B. Pearson, scheduled to be here, was not present.

The Duke motored the 11 miles from Kemano wharf to the powerhouse entrance. His vehicle was a yellow Alcan bus, mate of the conveyances used by the construction crews. The driver was Tom Davis, the job here for the last 2½ years. Escort was Kemano's one-man RCMP detachment, Const. Raymond McDonald, in work-a-day uniform.

Most of Kemano's 800 inhabitants got glimpses of the Duke during his one-hour tour.

At Klittat, according to noon-hour reports, about 3,000 had gathered to welcome the Duke's plane after the half-hour flight over the forbidding Kildala Pass, route of the Kemano-Klittat transmission line.

The third 21-gun salute in eight hours heralded the Duke as he went aboard the Ontario at the northern Vancouver Island centre of Port Hardy Monday evening for the 18-hour voyage to Kemano.

First salute of the day roared out the Duke's arrival at HMCS Naden, Victoria.

The second came from the Ontario as the Duke's plane touched down at Port Hardy, and the third welcomed the launch carrying him to the cruiser.

The Duke flew his personal standard in two Royal Canadian Navy ships Monday.

From Port Hardy to Kemano he traveled in HMCS Ontario, senior ship in the Pacific Command.

RAIN THREATENS B.E.G.

Chataway Favored For 3-Mile Event

By BILL WALKER, Times Sports Editor

EMPIRE STADIUM, Vancouver—England's distance kings were looked on for gold-medal performances in today's track events of the British Empire Games.

Muggy skies greeted the athletes early this morning. Intermittent rain fell on Vancouver streets.

Some experts were predicting newly-crowned world champion Fred Green of England would run second to Chris Chataway in the three-mile event, while Peter Davies, Saturday's six-mile champion, was considered a serious threat for third. Chataway was barely half a step behind Green when they jointly set the record.

Yet it could be that New Zealand's great miler, Murray Halberg, or Australia's John Landy, the miracle miler, might mount the rostrum of honor.

Both were still entered late this morning, although it was rumored that Landy might withdraw.

Swimming takes over the spotlight again Wednesday with Canada's best hope for a gold medal being Lenore Fisher from Ocean Falls. Matched against South Africa's Joan Harrison in the 110-yard backstroke final, Miss Fisher is conceded a good chance.

Also on the agenda Wednesday is the final of the rowing eights between the UBC crew and England at the Vedder Canal. UBC is the definite underdog in this event. (See sports pages for Monday's results.)

DARING: In Fort Worth, Tex., police hunted today for a daring thief. The wanted man stole the official car of Detective Chief Andre Fournier, stripped it and abandoned it 53 miles southwest of Fort Worth.

16 Deaths Mark New Violence In North Africa

Petitjean Scene Of Worst Rioting

(From AP, UP Dispatches)
TUNIS, Tunisia—Violence persisted in North Africa today, despite the French offer of more self-government to their Tunisian protectorate.

Shot this morning in his office at Sousse, Tunisia. His condition was reported serious.

In Morocco, anti-French Arab rioters today stormed through the streets of the oil and railway town of Petitjean, killing four Jewish shopkeepers, wounding the police commissioner, setting fire to the police station and looting homes and shops.

Police employed gunfire to restore order and reported that 13 were wounded.

The riot ended only after police reinforcements from Port Lyautey and Sidi Slimane were called to the scene.

12 REPORTED DEAD

Police also fired into a crowd of demonstrators at Fez, where several persons were wounded. Twelve persons were killed and 25 were wounded in earlier riots at Fez on Sunday and Monday.

But today's worst disorders centered at Petitjean, 40 miles northwest of Fez where between 700 and 800 Arabs rioted.

Police said the Jewish shopkeepers were killed while attempting to defend their property.

The French have made no concessions to the Moroccans. Nationalists there are seeking the return of sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, exiled to Madagascar by the French.

General Uprising Feared in Guatemala

Military Junta Orders President's Army Of Liberation Disbanded; Resentment Noted

GUATEMALA CITY (AP)—Guatemala's ruling military junta ordered President Carlos Castillo Armas' private army to disband and go home today, but the action generated rising public resentment. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said there was a possibility of a popular uprising in the capital.

The junta ordered the break-up of Castillo Armas' insurgent "liberation army," which sparked the overthrow of Communist-backed former president Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, after regular army units and military police broke up the group.

700 irregulars sporadically for 12 hours Monday with mortars and tanks.

Twelve persons were killed and 42 wounded in the battling around Roosevelt Hospital, where "Castillo Armas" men were camped on the outskirts of the capital. The fighting, outgrowth of weeks of tension between the regular troops and the insurgents, mushroomed from a dawn brawl between cadets and members of the president's force.

One report said the trouble started in a house of prostitution.

700 GIVE UP ARMS

A cease-fire took effect at 6:35 p.m. The 700 liberation army men surrendered their arms to regular army officers and were ordered to return to their homes.

The junta ordered a curfew into effect at 9 p.m. and warned that military patrols would take "drastic measures" against any violators.

A spokesman for the U.S. embassy reported there still was "very great tension" late Monday night. The president's backers were disgruntled, the spokesman said, because the army had forced him to break up his insurgent army.

Castillo, was believed still firmly in power. He maintained a complete silence Monday.

The government agreed to disarm and disband the liberation army and promised that the military cadets would not be punished for their part in the fighting. The regular army in turn guaranteed to place itself under complete government jurisdiction.

Alcan to Pay More Money To B.C.-Bennett

Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced Monday night Alcan has agreed to hand over to the provincial treasury "hundreds of thousands of dollars" B.C. lost in its original agreement with the firm.

The Premier, speaking before a Social Credit dinner at Kelowna, said company officials had "searched their souls" and decided to make up for concessions granted by previous governments.

At the time the Aluminum Company of Canada contract for its Kitimat-Kemano development was finalized, there were protests from many quarters that flooded land did not have to be cleared of large stands of timber. Tax concessions were also made.

Premier Bennett said his government intends honoring the original agreement but "we asked Alcan officials to search their own souls. They have since agreed to pay B.C. over a period of years hundreds of thousands of dollars, and they are doing it of their own free will," he said.

The Premier did not disclose details of the Alcan plan nor did he mention the amount of the repayments or on what they would be based.

Alcan officials were unavailable for comment because of the Duke of Edinburgh's visit to Kemano and Kitimat today.

WALES NEXT SITE OF EMPIRE GAMES

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The British Empire Games swung into high gear Monday with more records falling as the games federation formally chose Cardiff, Wales, as the site for the 1958 event.

"Operators will have to get down to serious bargaining" if they wish to avoid industry-crippling strikes, Homer Stevens, secretary of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union said at Vancouver Monday.

Result of the tendermen's strike vote has been held up by the provincial labor department until all ballots are in.

Aluminum Plant Part of Plan For North B.C.

Smelter Expected to Utilize Third of Vast Power Resources

A giant aluminum smelter will be constructed as an integral part of the vast Frobisher plan for developing the wilds of northwest B.C. and the Yukon.

Lands Minister R. F. Somers made the first mention of the aluminum plant Monday, in announcing the provincial government's approval of the Frobisher development.

He did not name the aluminum firm, but a representative of Reynolds Aluminum Ltd. was on hand for last week's successful meeting between Frobisher and the cabinet. Reynolds is second only to Aluminum Co. of America in world aluminum production.

The smelter will utilize almost one-third of the total hydro-power potential of the Atlin-Yukon area. Reynolds has large holdings of bauxite in the Far East.

The entire Frobisher project, according to provincial government mining experts, is based on hard-headed businesslike logic.

With the support of Reynolds and the rumored participation of industrial giants such as Monsanto Chemical, experts say they can see no barriers.

To safeguard the interests of B.C., in the event financing falls down, Premier W. A. C. Bennett has required the development company, Northwest Power Industries, to post a $2,500,000 bond. If the construction schedule is not maintained, the bond will be forfeited, together with the value of work accomplished to that time. No tax concessions will be made.

Taku Inlet has been chosen as the industrial site. On the bleak flats at the mouth of the Taku, the chemical, metallurgical, and smelting plants will be constructed, and the houses and stores to house and feed a potential population requirement of 20,000.

Ships from all parts of the world, hauling nickel-cobalt ores from New Caledonia, the Philippines, and other Pacific islands; pig iron and steel from Zeballos, Texada Island, and Campbell River; ferromanganese and silicomanganese from Southwest Africa, and Canadian base metals will drop anchor in deep water 20 miles out.

Lighters and barges will haul the ores in, and the finished product out. An alternative would be by road or rail through Alaska territory, and the backers are anxious to avoid this because of high handling costs at American ports.

Still in the planning stage is another deep water port at Stewart, B.C., at the head of the Portland Canal. Transmission of power is the problem here.

Adjourn Probe Into Slaying Of Que. Boy

MONTREAL (CPI)—Four-foot-tall Lucien Picard, dwarfed by three homicide detectives accompanying him, was escorted from Quebec City to Montreal Monday night to answer questions in connection with the sadistic slaying of six-year-old Raymond Trudeau.

Picard, an unemployed machinist, was manacled to a detective as he walked silently through a crowd in front of the police station to reach the cells. He wore a rumpled suit given him earlier in the day by Quebec police who arrested him on a lower town street.

SLAYER SAID "MANIAC"

The 43-year-old Quebec man was held as a material witness in the fiendish killing of the Trudeau boy, slain last week by a person described by police as "a sadistic sex maniac."

The boy's head, hands and legs were found in two beer cartons in a garbage pile near a produce market on the Montreal waterfront Saturday. His torso and arms were discovered Sunday in a room formerly occupied by Picard on Lagache Street.

Police also confiscated four large knives, a blood-stained blanket and two blood-stained pillows found in the room. They said the knives had been sharpened recently.

Dr. Rosario Fontaine, who performed an autopsy Monday, said the boy's throat had been slit before his body was dismembered.

IDENTITY ESTABLISHED

An inquest was opened into the killing and adjourned after Raymond was formally identified by David Trudeau, his 34-year-old father, a boiler factory worker, and the victim's mother.

Attempts to Settle Bakery Strike Fail

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Week-end meetings between union and operators failed to end a three-week bakery strike and lockout on the west coast, labor officials reported today.

Tom Alsbury, president of the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council and other union officials conferred four times with the operators Friday and Monday. Alsbury said recommendations for ending the dispute were not acceptable to either the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union (B.C.U.) nor the operators' representatives.

Both parties are now "back where they started," he said. The lockout started early last month when employees of one local bakery went on strike to back up demands for a 35-hour work week and other concessions. A lockout in other plants followed the strike action until 400 employees in six bakeries were idled.

The week-end meetings followed unsuccessful efforts of government, civic and labor officials for a settlement.

IRAN FLOODS TAKE 500 LIVES; 10,000 STARVING, HOMELESS

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Newspaper accounts pictured the flood-ravaged Kazvin area of north Iran as a land of horror, threatened by starvation, thirst and prowling wild animals. The leading journal, Etefak, said at least 500 persons lost their lives in the floods 100 miles northwest of Tehran last week and 10,000 face starvation.

One report said hunger-maddened peasants attacked a relief train bringing food, medicine and blankets and beat up the escort.

Only B. F. Goodrich has 36,000 trained retailers to serve you, backed by years of Tubeless Tire know-how

Maybe you've been hearing all the new talk about Tubeless Tires. A big revolution in tire design is under way. A revolution begun and fought through to victory single-handedly by B. F. Goodrich. A revolution that means more miles, fewer flats, greater protection against blowouts for every driver.

It is now safe to predict that the Tubeless Tire—invented, patented and perfected by B. F. Goodrich—is on the way to becoming the standard tire, entirely replacing tires with tubes. Reports from across the nation indicate that the inner tube is on the way out. And soon!

"The tire and tube combination may well pass out of the automobile picture," a leading automotive journal predicts. And with it, the greatest source of tire troubles disappears too, as the B. F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire has demonstrated in over 50 billion miles of use during the six years it has been on sale.

Inner Tube Source of Most Tire Troubles
It's the inner tube that goes flat. It's the inner tube that blows out.

Most blowouts in tires with inner tubes start from a bruise. You hit a rock or curb. A few cords inside the tire are broken. The break grows. Miles or months later the inner tube is pinched, and explodes through the tire wall in a blowout.

B. F. Goodrich Tubeless Tires
Change Blowouts to S-S-Slowouts

The B. F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire has no tube. Instead, it has a patented liner bonded to the tire. This liner can't get pinched. If bruised, it develops only pin-hole leaks under normal running conditions. Air escapes slowly, instead of all at once. Dangerous bruise blowouts are changed to safe s-s-slowouts. You keep control of your car. You stop safely.

B. F. Goodrich Tubeless Tires
on Sale 6 Years

Tubeless Tire has been the goal of tire engineers since the early days of the automobile, but all efforts failed. Then, on May 11, 1947, B. F. Goodrich startled the automotive world by announcing the development of the first successful Tubeless Tire for passenger cars, another in the long line of B. F. Goodrich "firsts." On February 2, 1948, the first Tubeless Tire went on sale. Now our competitors are undertaking to build tires without tubes. Far from resenting this imitation, we have offered to license other tire companies at nominal royalties to manufacture under our patents. Because it means greater safety for all motorists.

B. F. Goodrich Users Have 6-Year Lead
Meanwhile, B. F. Goodrich continues to offer car owners the advantage of a 6-year lead. A 6-year lead in use, proof, know-how and service. A 6-year lead that we are continuing to maintain through constant improvement in design and manufacture.

Both the Canadian and United States Governments have granted B. F. Goodrich basic patents on Tubeless Tires—further recognition of B. F. Goodrich design leadership. Over 3,000,000 B. F. Goodrich Tubeless Tires have been sold. They have delivered over 50 billion miles of peace-of-mind driving. And 36,000 B. F. Goodrich retailers in Canada and the United States are the only retailers backed by up to 6 years of Tubeless Tire know-how.

When Royalty Drops In

IT WAS A PLEASURE FOR THIS city once more to be host to the Duke of Edinburgh. On his previous visit, when he accompanied the gracious Princess who so shortly was to ascend the throne, he won the hearts of all by his democratic bearing and his genuine interest in people. During yesterday's visit formal appearances were kept to a minimum, yet there were opportunities for the general public to catch a glimpse of the handsome consort of the Queen and assure him that the popularity of his welcome was still unbounded.

The current tour of Canada is one that appeals particularly to the Duke. His interest in, and knowledge of, science are well known. On his present travels, at Kemano, at Chalk River, at the Labrador iron ore deposits, he is seeing at first hand the fruits of laboratory research and practical pioneering. He is seeing the successful merging of the work of the scientist and of the field man, and it appears to be the type of endeavor which quickly captures his interest and enthusiasm.

The major portion of the Duke's time here was spent in the naval circles in which he appears happiest. There could be little doubt of his satisfaction regarding the reception at HMCS Naden and HMC Dockyard. Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard and the Pacific Command are to be congratulated on the splendid showing of the officers and men on whom fell the duty of demonstrating, to the Queen's foremost representative and an Admiral of the Fleet, the efficiency of the senior service in this farthest western extremity of the Commonwealth.

Before turning eastward the Duke will see a facet of British Columbia's industrial progress, he will view the Games at which athletes from all parts of the Commonwealth are competing, and he will be the focus on numerous occasions of the public admiration which has been his due since entering the limelight that is the inevitable accompaniment of royalty. That admiration is the result not merely of custom but of genuine respect for a man who is doing a difficult job well.

Greater Victoria will look forward with hope to another visit in the not too distant future. The growing speed and ease of transportation are removing one of the greatest impediments to closer relations between Crown and Commonwealth citizen. We are entering upon a period in which visits such as that of the Duke of Edinburgh may happily become much more frequent.

Marx, Nehru and Chou

MR. NEHRU HAD HARDLY said farewell to Mr. Chou En-lai before he began a hurried tour of India to preach his doctrine of Indian revolution. But revolution in the mind of Mr. Nehru — a disenchanted Marxist — is very different from revolution in the mind of Mr. Chou and other communist oracles.

"Revolution," Mr. Nehru said the other day, "is not the breaking of heads, it is the making of changes in a big way. Mother India is in labor. Our new temples are the dams, river valley projects, fertilizer factories and agriculture extension schemes. Religion is a dynamic force, not a hopeless worship of cows."

How, in fact, is the Indian revolution coming along? Much better, it appears, than most Westerners had expected in recent years. One of the primary facts of world politics today is that India, desolated by famine in 1951, is now rich with food, has ended all rationing of cereals and at this rate of progress will soon be entirely self-supporting in food stuffs, despite an annual increase of 4,000,000 in its population. With its eyes on the industrial miracles of Britain and West Germany since the war, the West seems to have overlooked another miracle in the soil of India.

Part of it is accidental — like Canada's original discovery of Duncan Fife's mysterious wheat, which would grow on our dry, frosty prairies. An Indian businessman visiting Japan a couple of years ago realized that the Japanese knew how to grow rice much better than the Indians, and on poorer grounds. He brought that secret home with him. Today, by the Japanese method of staking up rice instead of letting its seed lie waterlogged, India is vastly increasing its yield and reducing its production costs. This of itself is a revolution, much like that of the central Canadian plains in the first years of the twentieth century.

But, of course, it is only one aspect of the larger economic, social and spiritual revolution which Mr. Nehru is trying to promote among India's impoverished and illiterate millions. It will take time, patience and assistance from India's Commonwealth and American friends. Mr. Nehru's own thoughts, however, seem to be perfectly clear, despite the blandishments of his recent guest, Mr. Chou. Those who imagine that Mr. Nehru is a kind of disguised communist should read one of his latest speeches to the Indian farmers:

"Marx wrote about the Europe of his time, he never came to India and never propounded theories for the solution of India's problems. But Indian communists, parrot-like, have crammed certain writings of Marx and Lenin and day in and day out repeat them. They have failed to learn the lesson Marx taught, that conditions in every country are different and one set pattern of thought and action cannot be applied everywhere. Thus the Indian communists are following a reactionary role in India today. Books on economics written in the nineteenth or early twentieth century are of no avail today."

Whatever else he may have accomplished, Mr. Chou obviously has not sold communism to Mr. Nehru, who is everywhere denouncing it.

After Wonder Drugs—What?

GERALD W. JOHNSON, WHOSE genius lies in comment on important matters in language understandable to the man on the street corner, recently discussed ex-President Harry S. Truman's operation.

Mr. Truman lapsed into a condition of grave danger owing to an unexpectedly violent reaction to post-operative medication.

"In coarse lay language, this means," says Mr. Johnson, "that Mr. Truman survived the injury, all right, but damn nigh died of the cure."

Around this case Mr. Johnson weaves a discussion of the wonder drugs and the public's widespread ignorance of their results.

The argument points up a dangerous trend in public thinking. Caught by the spectacular accounts of new drugs and their sensational abilities, the man on the street has paid little attention to after effects and the extreme danger in which he may place himself by demanding this or that treatment.

In the majority of instances he is saved from serious consequences by the veto of his physician. But, if Mr. Truman provides an illustrious example, there is much to be done in the unspectacular and costly job of researching wonder drug effects on all types of people.

Few will discount the value of new treatments. A potion that promotes appetite is to be applauded for that purpose by the individual who has no inclination to eat. On the other hand, it doesn't help him to eat a steak if it removes his teeth while promoting appetite.

Banned—601 Years Later

THE CITY OF SWINDON, AND indeed most of Britain, have been thrown into a turmoil by a magistrates' ruling that the Decameron of Giovanni Boccaccio is obscene. The reaction to the judicial censorship ran the gamut of righteous indignation, humorous asides, and reasoned disagreement. But it appears that the residents of Swindon will have to visit a library or book shop outside the limits of their home town if they wish to pursue the works of the Italian writer.

It was exactly 601 years ago that Boccaccio published his 100 tales which purportedly originated in an effort to while away the hours of exile of a group of Florentine residents who had fled the city to escape the Black Plague. No doubt they have been condemned on more than one occasion, for, as one Lond newspaper comments, the uninhibited tales are "a bit near the knuckle."

But the Decameron has assumed the patina and the privileges of age. Such liberties as it takes with Mrs. Grundy's sensibilities may be excused on half a dozen counts. And, indeed, the present era, in which sex rears a much uglier head than ever appeared in Boccaccio's time, is ill fitted to criticize, much less condemn, stories which have become classics of their kind.

As long as there is sex, men and women so inclined will laugh at it with Boccaccio. It needs only the spur of such actions as that of the Swindon magistrates to increase the readership demand—an inevitable result currently being reported by the libraries and bookstores of Swindon and surrounding towns.

The Stump That Won't Die

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

NEAR my woodland cabin is a peculiar stump which has long baffled me. It has stood there longer than I can remember, apparently dead like the stumps of all big fir-trees. Yet somehow it still retains a silent heart-beat of life. Amputated by loggers long ago, it has not decayed. With some mysterious power it has managed to thrust its bark over the old saw wound, to encase itself with a protective covering and to stand unshakable in its ruin among the other rotting stumps.

Hutchison

This mystery—which is rare but not unique in our coastal woods—was explained to me the other day by a young forester who, like all his breed, knows far more than he ever imparts to the public. Holding the intelligence of my three readers in high regard, I fancy they will be interested in this forester's revelation.

THE Douglas fir, he tells me, is unique among the swarming species of our rain forest in its underground habits. The roots of one tree, crawling slowly through the earth, encounter the roots of another. At once these blind fir growths recognize their common creaturehood and join organically together by a secret graft.

The sapstream of both trees then flows together. They are joined until death do them part. If one tree is cut down its stump can sometimes go on living without foliage on the blood and nourishment of its mate, like a Siamese twin. Hence the imperishable old stump near my cabin, proclaiming one of the queerest and least known freaks of nature.

NATURE at the moment is playing havoc with millions of our fir trees, the basic capital asset of this coast. Perhaps the erudite reader has known this for some time but it is news to me that the fir forest has been dangerously penetrated by a curious disease known as Pooreria Weiria. I probably have got the spelling wrong, but I think I have the facts straight and they explain an alarming phenomenon all too visible in my own few acres of woodlot.

The disease, travelling by invisible spores, infects the body of the fir but seldom harms other species. Installed in one tree, it is communicated to the other, like human germs, by the subterranean union of the roots.

Thus I have found many big and apparently healthy firs falling for no apparent reason during the winter storms. Whenever I cut them up for firewood I find them rotting at the heart, for some ten feet of their trunks, despite their outward look of health.

ATTRIBUTED this until now to the natural changes and inevitable casualties of the forest, which always kills off its weaker members in the interests of the strong. Now I find that the foresters are deeply worried by a disease threatening some of our most precious timber-stands, and there is no cure, except to cut the trees in the areas of infection and start the growth of a new species, less valuable but immune.

These technical facts would not be worth mentioning to the lay reader, if they did not reveal our common ignorance of the great basic facts on which we live here. We live on the assumption that nature is always an automatic and reliable process, that all we have to do is reap its wealth while it produces a new crop, solely for our benefit.

MOST of us live, indeed, without ever knowing, for example, how our cars, refrigerators or radios operate. We live by turning some knob or other and expecting nature, or wiser men, to do the rest. Usually they do, but sometimes nature seems to grow tired of its burdens and rebels. It is rebelling just now in the fir forests. Whether you know it or not, they have long been the main source of your income and, without them we doubtless would be living like Indians, on skins.

The foresters know all these things and many more, equally disturbing, but they are a silent, inarticulate and bashful sort of men. They cannot communicate what they know—and, until recent years, the politicians (who can communicate everything often without knowing anything) have ignored the scientists of forestry.

ANY member of the Legislature with a loud voice can splash headlines all over the place, assure us that there is nothing wrong with the forest, that we are not cutting it fast enough, that we could be twice as rich if we only turned more loggers loose with axe and saw. Being usually a civil servant, the forester performs his duty in public. Being a scientist, he has no time for the bravado of the ignorant. Obsessed with the great Homeric struggle of nature, he disregards the minor squabbles of men. But nature, silent like its students, goes its own way, punishes its offenders, rewards its chosen members and, despite a few temporary human interferences, determines the life of man.

Cross-Country Viewpoints

FRIGHTFUL MEDIUM

St. John's (Nfld.) Telegram

Commercial television in the United States of America has become a frightful medium of dramatized violence, cheap sensationalism and coarse slapstick. It is Hollywood gone to seed, degenerated to the ultimate. An independent committee of investigators in a Pacific Coast state recently concluded that practically all children's programs on TV were definitely harmful, glorifying crime and violence, and (in a nutshell) turning the comic book with all its horror into motion, sound and drama. Moreover, they found that the programs were not getting any better, but rather getting progressively worse. The proportion of time in children's programs devoted to crime was increasing steadily, and in two years had tripled.

It is because we want, if possible, to escape that kind of degradation in Newfoundland that we want television here to be under public ownership and control.

NO FEAR

Ottawa Journal

British Columbia, a booming province, has the mighty Kitimat aluminum plant coming into operation. Also in the northern part of the province will come the expenditure of other hundreds of millions of dollars on power and mineral projects by the Frobenisher and Venture group of companies.

If there were neither work nor building nor new production in sight there might be reason for hesitancy. What is evident is that this country has put its hand to a program of expansion such as never was dreamed of in the past. In the employment of national resources there will be employment and income for Canadians for years to come and we ought to know no fear.

MEAGRE SUM

Windsor Star

"Were it not for grants—provincial and federal—endowments, donations and other supplementary sources of income, our universities and colleges would be unable to exist, except on such a curtailed basis that their services to Canada would be crippled.

But considering that those institutions of higher learning operated in 1951-52 on a total outlay of only $48,221,000, there is no other national activity that gave greater value for the money. Set beside the nation's annual expenditure of $800,000,000 for alcoholic beverages, that sum looks meagre indeed.

SIMPLY HUMAN

Halifax Chronicle-Herald

There is an element repugnant to Nova Scotian sentiment in regarding Summer visitors merely as something as cold and impersonal as an "industry." That their presence has an important financial results is not to be denied; but basically their reception and their treatment, and their encouragement to return is a matter of simple human relations.

OUTPACED

A newly-invented electronic teletype method transmits at ten times the present rate. At a demonstration held in Boston in the plant of The Herald-Tribune the machine has been sending 600 words a minute—accurately. Handling of stock market quotations has been cut from ten hours to one hour.

This is remarkable tribute to the efficacy of the machine. All around us new gadgets dazzle us by their speed and efficiency. All we need now is some device to enable the human mind to keep pace. How about a brain that can think accurately at 600 words a minute? Or even a brain that would think?

PLUS SECURITY

Strange Case of Otto John

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP, From Washington

THE highest officials in Washington, London and Bonn are developing their own pet theories about the proper interpretation of the following note:

"Dear liebes: Reasons I cannot explain at this time have forced me to take a step which I shall later explain. I shall only say that you should not allow yourself to be upset, and that you should also reassure father. I am in sorrow about you but not about myself. Love, Otto."

This note is hastily scrawled on a sheet of paper. The word "forced" is very heavily underlined. Is it the letter of a man who has voluntarily gone over to the Communists? Or is it the letter of a man who has fallen into a trap, and wishes to hint that this is so?

The questions are important. For "Otto" is Dr. Otto John, West Germany's chief of internal security, who went over into East Germany on July 20th, and has since broadcast for the Communists. This episode has shaken to its foundations the Adenauer government—and indeed the whole Western Alliance. The questions above are important simply because Otto neo-Nazis and Communists are making immense political capital out of the claim that John's defection was an act of voluntary political protest against the policies of the Adenauer government.

DETECTIVE STORY

But was it? A kind of vast international detective story has been enacted, in an attempt to answer this question. The results, which may now be authoritatively reported, are inconclusive but interesting.

John came to Berlin to celebrate the anniversary of the July 20 plot against Hitler, in which he participated, and in which his brother lost his life. A heavy, rather handsome man, with great energy, he had a busy day in Berlin. Besides attending the celebrations, he did various errands, and visited the Berlin headquarters of the FBI-like "Office for the Protection of the Constitution," which he headed.

Those who saw him recall that he seemed a little subdued—natural in view of his memories of the day—but otherwise quite normal. He made a number of engagements for the next day. Early in the evening, he and his wife were chatting with friends in the lobby of their West Berlin hotel, when his wife retired to their room with a headache.

Shortly thereafter, John entered the room, took all the secret papers he was carrying with him out of his pockets, and placed them on the bureau. He said something to his wife about keeping an eye on the papers, muttered something about having a beer, put on his hat, and left without a word of goodbye.

At this point, the unlikely figure of Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth enters this macabre 20th century drama. John apparently first met Wohlgemuth in connection with a legal case involving an affidavit of the wartime death of a relative. Wohlgemuth had accomplished the astonishing feat of keeping a foot in both camps—he had a lucrative medical practice in both East and West Berlin. But his real sympathies were with the East, as John very well knew. John no doubt also knew of Wohlgemuth's specialty—hypnotism and the psychiatric use of drugs.

John took a taxi to a point near Wohlgemuth's apartment. This much is known with certainty. The day after John disappeared, a customs guard at a cross point volunteered that he had talked to two men answering the description of Wohlgemuth and John, crossing over in a car to East Berlin. This has been advanced as proof of the voluntary defection.

But the identification was by no means certain. And another witness has now volunteered that at about eleven o'clock in the night of July 20th, he saw a man, seemingly drunk, being loaded into a car with an East Berlin license plate, near the sector border.

UNDER PRESSURE?

Three days after John's disappearance, his wife received in the ordinary post the letter quoted above. Last week, Frau John received a second letter. This one is carefully and neatly written. It is signed, with embarrassing intimacy, "Fatty"—but one can sense the presence of another person peering over John's shoulder as he wrote it.

The letter too can be interpreted in two ways. "Today I read in the Western press about myself," John writes, "what they say misses the whole point. Those people don't understand or don't want to understand." Among other things, the Western press was saying that John had defected voluntarily for political reasons.

A few days ago, a confidential memorandum issued by the East German government to the Communist press was obtained. It warns rather huffily that it is no use asking for interviews with Dr. John. This will be "impossible for the time being," since John is "at a location which is inaccessible to the public organs of our republic."

Is Dr. John being kept in this "inaccessible location" for purposes of brain washing? And if he really defected voluntarily, why need his brain be washed? Other questions, which may already have occurred to the reader, arise from this international detective story. These questions, which will be considered in another report on this remarkable case, have caused the international detectives to form the tentative theory that, rather than defecting voluntarily, Dr. John fell into a trap, temptingly baited and brilliantly planned.

Opposition to Rodeos

I would be pleased if you would grant me space to explain my stand in connection with the proposal of the Van-Isle Kinsmen to sponsor a rodeo here at the end of September.

At the outset it should be understood that when I oppose the rodeo I am speaking from long experience of humane work for animals and through the years have gained first-hand knowledge of this subject—a statement which I very much doubt could be repeated by any of the Kinsmen who are apparently so enthusiastic about bringing this sadistic spectacle to Victoria.

In 1919, when passing sentence on a rodeo operator for cruelty to a horse at Vancouver, Magistrate W. W. B. McInnes said, "I have to say the very basis of that performance is cruelty because the horse has to be in a condition of pain to give that performance."

This statement by Magistrate McInnes could well apply to every phase of these shows. The animals are roughly handled, abused and continually goaded to terror to provide the so-called entertainment. No part of these performances is necessary and very few of the stunts performed have any place on the modern cattle range. Actually, the rodeo and the bullfight are in the same class as degrading examples of cruelty to animals with one strange exception. Most bulls are subject to torture only once, while the unfortunate animals in a rodeo are manhandled and abused until they are unfit for any useful purpose.

Mr. Bergeron and his associates with advantage might study the record of rodeos in these parts. There has been only one rodeo in Vancouver since 1949 when the cruelty was successfully exposed in court, and it is believed that the subsequent show was not a financial success. One was held in Duncan last year and I have been informed that the officials of the organization which sponsored it were not too happy about it.

Why take the risk, Mr. Bergeron? Your organization has done wonderful work for the community and is held in high esteem accordingly. Why associate it with a spectacle which will not meet with wholehearted public support? There must surely be more palatable methods of raising funds for your worthy charities.

Games Highlights

VANCOUVER—After a week-end of perfect weather, grey overcast hung over the Empire Pool here Monday morning. Divers worked out from the springboards and tower, smart new equipment that is probably the equal of anything in the world.

Today they move into competition and the standards are going to be high. These are the people who seem to have caught the public's imagination. While there were lots of vacant seats in the stands as the swimming opened on Saturday, Sunday evening the bleachers were crowded as Vancouverites and visitors swarmed into watch exhibition work from the high platform.

It all looked so easy as you stood on the pool deck and watched a couple of English girls go through a team performance, running out into the sky and floating down in the simple rolls of one-and-a-half front somersaults, and half-gainers, timing themselves to hit the water together. It always looks simple when the divers are good and you're on ground level. Get up there on the 33-foot platform itself and you feel as if you're peering off the Bank of Toronto roof. Even with a parachute you wouldn't want to let go.

So today they started the competitions, and it was a safe bet that there were more expert diving judges in the crowd than there are armchair strategists in the world's Sunday quarterback clubs.

It'll be a swell show if the overcast drifts off and lets the sun through again—and it probably will. Saturday was perfect—one of those days when the heat beats down on your back, when the swimmers lounge around in their sweat-soaked suits between events and are geared to a fine pitch for their races. Percy Norman, Canada's swim coach, was sweating. Percy often does. He pulls the front of his trousers out at the belt line and explains he's lost 20 pounds since his slacks were made to measure. Not enough slacks for breakfast, maybe. That's a bit of a sore point with the dietitian's department over here.

Jon Henricks opened the show with a bang in the first heat of the men's 110 yards freestyle. It looked a leisurely stretch as Henricks went down, turned and came back. His fairly long arm-action reaches give that impression. But when the time went up he'd cracked the B.E.G. record.

You can get from the swim pool to the track and field stadium, on the other side of town, if you want to take in two events in one afternoon. All you need is a helicopter or a friend who knows Vancouver's back streets and can take you off the speedways which slow down in heavy traffic.

We did it Saturday. Took less than an hour. In the infield was Jackie MacDonald, the Canadian girl who placed second in the shotput. Blonde Jackie stands out like a neon sign and seems to be ubiquitous. She was out watching the Vancouver Lions roar at scrimmage near the Empire Village in the UBC grounds Sunday.

Saturday was an occasion to go down in memory. Those who saw it won't forget the team running of the British stars. Power Driver, Frank Sando and Jim Peters, in the six-mile. Nor the roar that went up from the crowd as they rounded the last two laps well ahead of the rest of the field, with Peters' head wagging—he looked as if he were going to collapse almost as soon as he started—and looked the same when he finished third. They'll remember, too, the effort of Doug Kyle, the Vancouver boy, who stayed up with the leaders until the race was going into its final laps and then had to drop out.

They'll remember the way Trinidad's Mike Agostini beat Canada's Don McFarlane in a photo-finish in the 100 yards, with world record-holder, Hector Hogan of Australia placing third.

And they'll keep a picture of the way the Nigerian boy, Emmanuel Ifeajuna, flowed over the bar in the high jump to win. Somewhere in memory they'll recall the way the Doug Hepburn episode, when the huge Vancouver man, who has the world's weight-lifting championship, couldn't find his way quickly enough from his seat in the grandstand to the victory stand for the Lou Marsh Trophy presentation. Most at ease in the delay was Lord Alexander. He stood by the pole vault pit; sat down when Doug failed to appear; and then stretched out on his side, picnic lunch fashion, until the big man showed up.

At Williamson, who is high brass in press relations for the Games—the same Al who handled the Legislature for the News Herald a few years ago—says the bugs are being eliminated from his end of the show and things are smoothing out.

There's bound to be some complaining, but maybe that can be fixed up too—just a few more steaks for breakfast.

VANCOUVER SUSPENDS PURCHASING DEPT. HEAD

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bill Penny, 43-year-old head of Vancouver's purchasing department, was suspended Monday by Mayor Fred Hume pending "an audit of his department, and further investigation."

Suspension of the veteran official followed a meeting of a special committee behind closed doors.

Mayor Hume said a report on the department which handles purchases of $10,000,000 a year will be made to city council "at a later date." He said investigation of the department had started "recently."

U.S. Determined To Defend Formosa

Sharp Official Reaction to Threats That Communists Will Oust Chiang

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States stands ready to throw its military force against any attempt by Red China to invade Formosa, officials said today.

They issued the warning in the face of stepped up demands recently by Red Chinese officials for Communist conquest of Formosa.

The officials said the United States considers the Nationalist China stronghold of Formosa essential to America's security and believes that it must remain in friendly hands.

The latest Red call for an invasion came two days ago from Gen. Chu Teh, commander-in-chief of the Communist Chinese army.

"Taiwan (Formosa) has been

CHOU HITS U.S. POLICY

LONDON (UP)—Chinese Communist premier Chou En-lai today joined his top-ranking army chiefs in the propaganda assault against U.S. policy on Formosa.

Chou said in a banquet speech honoring Communist Indo-Chinese Vice-Premier Pham Van Dong in Peking that the United States intends to make Formosa "a military springboard for continuing aggression against China."

"American words and deeds during and after the Geneva conference show that it will go on maintaining and whipping up a new tense situation in Asia," Chou said.

Special Senate Committee To Investigate McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted 75 to 12 Monday night to consign to a special bipartisan committee a censure move aimed at Senator Joseph McCarthy. The vote evidently signalled a lengthy new investigation of the Wisconsin Republican's conduct.

Senator William Knowland of California, the Republican leader, predicted appointment by Vice-President Richard Nixon "within 48 hours" of a six-member inquiry committee charged with sifting nearly 50 overlapping charges against McCarthy, the Senate's controversial Communist hunter.

The Senate's vote sent to the special committee a censure motion by Senator Ralph Flanders (Rep.Vt.)—which Flanders punctuated by reading a list of 33 counts against McCarthy—plus six specific accusations against McCarthy by Senator J. William Fulbright (Dem.-Ark.), seven somewhat similar charges by Senator Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.).

McCarthy professed to be pleased with the Senate decision. "I'm very happy. This is good," he said. "I sincerely

Chicken Thief Shot, Killed By Ont. Farmers

Victim's Brothers Placed Under Arrest

MARKHAM, Ont. (CP)—An early-morning chase by two gun-toting farmers for chicken-house prowlers ended Monday in the death of 22-year-old David Puddicombe of Toronto.

The man's two brothers, Robert, 18, and Peter, 16, were later arrested by Toronto police and charged with the theft of 80 chickens. They were scheduled to appear in police court today.

David Puddicombe was found, shot through the head in thick underbrush in this district, 10 miles north of Toronto. Ken Torrance, 25, and Terry Strain, 16, fired five shots from a .22-calibre pistol and a rifle at a man seen crawling up a gully where a wrecked truck containing crates of live chickens was lying. Puddicombe was taken to Toronto and died in hospital Monday afternoon.

Markham chief constable Clarence Wideman said an investigation will be held into the shooting. He said police were unable to tell which man fired the fatal bullet as both guns were of the same calibre.

THIEVES FLED

Torrance's father told police he was roused during the night by noises from the chicken house. He called his son and nephew and the three went out to investigate. They found three persons near the chickens and ordered them to stand still. The intruders fled, one crossing a field to a parked truck.

Young Torrance and Strain chased the truck in their car while the elder Torrance notified police. The truck came to grief and the shooting followed.

Frobisher Project Gets Mixed Reception

Liberals Lend Qualified Approval to Big $700 Million Power Plan; CCF Raps Bennett

VANCOUVER (CP)—Qualified approval came from Liberal, and strong criticism from CCF spokesmen Monday night over announcement of a $700,000,000 power development in the Atlin Lake region of northern British Columbia.

Lands Minister R. E. Sommers said Monday a conditional water license will be issued to North-west Power Industries Ltd. for the gigantic development, which will see 880,000 horsepower generated by 1962.

Liberal leader Arthur Laing gave cautious approval of the plan, but the CCF member for Vancouver East, Arthur J. Turner, said the deal should have been submitted to the Legislature for approval, as promised by Premier Bennett at the spring session.

"Premier Bennett has bolted from his stated position of conducting the business of the province in a democratic way," Turner said.

"No agreement should have been made before the House had a chance to look it over." He said a project of the magnitude of the British Columbia Yukon border development should be subject to periodic review by the Legislature.

Both Mr. Turner and Mr. Laing said they would like to know the terms of any agreement entered into between the government and Northwest Power, a subsidiary of Quebec Metallurgical Industries and Frobisher Ltd.

Mr. Laing said that development would be a great thing for the province, but added that most of the credit should go, not to the Social Credit government, but to federal minister of development and resources, Robert Winters, who conducted preliminary negotiations, and was successful in keeping Aluminum Company of America out of the picture.

The Liberal leader predicted the project will mean a railway from Dawson Creek to the head of Gardiner Canal, providing B.C. with a northern rail link to the Pacific.

The World Council of Churches was formally constituted Aug. 23, 1948, at Amsterdam by representatives of 147 churches from 44 countries.

NEW YORK—Zsa Zsa Gabor, already tiffing temperamentally with Porfirio Rubirosa, is slated for a large surprise. The Dominican diplomat, most recent ex-husband of Barbara Hutton, is in a mood to ditch Zsa-Zsa and leave for a European rendezvous with beautiful Joanne Connelly Sweeney Ortiz-Patino. "Rubirosa was named as co-responder when society golfer Robert Sweeney divorced Joanne."

Margaret Truman turned down a Las Vegas offer which would have grossed her $12,000 a week. Celeste Holm is in a matrimonial mood again. Intimates say it won't be long before she walks down the aisle with the vice-prez of a department store. Ava Gardner isn't the only American beauty bull-fighter Luis Dominguez is interested in. He's been dating another famed glamour girl, but more quietly because she has a husband.

Red Buttons has been dogged by an unlucky star. Network and sponsor troubles, and now his father is gravely ill. An infirmary at Bellevue is the fellow who gets most upset when Sloan Simpson is linked romantically to another. The J. Ferris Brogan of Washington, D.C., are lullabying a baby daughter.

Jimmy Shelton has written a batch of "identical" songs for Eartha Kitt to sing in "Mrs. Patterson." They'll add up to an RCA-Victor album. (He's the composer of the perennial "Lamp-light.") Glenda Farrell tossed a party for her friend Harriet Parsons (Louella's girl), who reintroduced Glenda to flicker fans in "Susan Slept Here."

SCHOOL CAMP ATTRACTS 80

TOFINO—More than 80 children, aged six to 12, came from Uluet, Long Beach, Tofino, Tahsis, Cespice, Refugee Cove and the Albernis for a two-week summer school at Christies Residential School. Hikes, picnics and a variety of sports, including swimming, were on their program.

They were under the supervision of Rev. Father M. D. Kearney, principal; Rev. Father D. Pruner, assistant principal; Rev. Father Miller of Nootka, and by the Benedictine Sisters of the school's staff, Sister Superior Collette, Sister Patricia and Sister Stephen Mary.

Two Benedictine sisters from Mt. Angel, Wash., also were in attendance. Helping to prepare meals were Mrs. W. S. McLean and Mrs. T. Wale of Port Alberni, and Mrs. Hucel, Mission City. Rev. Father A. E. Leonard of Port Alberni, visited the school for a few days.

Strikebreaking By Contract Feared By IWA

U.S. Wood Strike Creates Problem

PORT ALBERNI—"Idemal contract deadlines for woodworkers on both sides of the Pacific Northwest International Border" is the only answer to prevent companies from whip-sawing one side against the other," Jack Moore, financial secretary of Local 1-85, IWA, said here Monday.

Mr. Moore, in a prepared statement, said that under the present system Canadian workers would be largely responsible for the current five-week-old IWA strike in the U.S. Pacific Northwest was broken. Reviewing "the drastic changes in the lumbering industry in the last few years," he said, "the day of free enterprise in the industry had vanished. Today a few companies controlled almost all timber and means of production in the PNW."

"Unfortunately, these same companies also control most of the timber and the mills in B.C., and the overall result is that woodworkers of B.C. have been put in an untenable position of having to cut the orders that the mills in the U.S. normally cut."

He said that what alarms the IWA officers is that a strike in B.C. would bring about a vice-versa situation. To illustrate his point, Mr. Moore said that mills in the Alberni Valley have cut many orders for the U.S. Army in the last few weeks "and we have a contract and can do nothing about it."

Radiator Steam Scalds Logger

CAMPBELL RIVER—William Pennington, 45, of Mission, B.C., was flown to hospital here by B.C. Airlines Sunday from Eva Logging Co., Bute Inlet, suffering from first and second-degree burns.

Company officials said that Pennington was driving a tractor that became overheated and on removing the radiator cap received a shower of steam over the front of his body.

B.C. Cement Leases Texada Limestone

The B.C. Cement Company has leased 240 acres on Texada Island for 21 years for limestone quarrying, but there is no intention of operating the quarry until the material is needed.

Approval of the lease was given by provincial order-in-council. Site is on the west side of the island.

Highway Violator Gets Sharp Lecture

NANAIMO—Crossing the solid white line on his side to pass a car along the highway at Northfield cost Kert Brader $12.50 and costs in Magistrate Beevor Potts' court Monday. The magistrate gave Brader a short sharp lecture on the meaning of the white line. It was "put there for a definite purpose, to protect you and others against accidents on the highway."

ISLAND DIGEST

Victoria Daily Times TUESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1954 7

Auto Mangled in Fatal Crash

Collision with a bridge abutment on Alberni Highway, Sunday, killed George Hamilton, 45, of Port Alberni, and pulverized his 1950 Vanguard sedan. He died almost instantly in the wreckage. It was the second traffic fatality on the road to the Albernis during the week-end, the third on

Island roads. Johannes Viking Hartman, 44, of Errington, 29 miles northwest of Nanaimo was fatally injured in a car mishap Saturday. Paul Binder, 19, of Duncan—who came to B.C. 10 months ago from Germany—was killed early Sunday when a car overturned after going off the Cowichan Lake Road. (Photo by Van Isle Photo Service.)

Comox Road Site Held Unhandy For Nanaimo's Needed Fire Hall

NANAIMO—Council may have a tough time trying to convince a majority of voters that Comox Road is the ideal site for Nanaimo's new fire hall and police station if the meeting held Monday night by Ratepayers' Association is a criterion.

William Eidse presided at the gathering.

One ratepayer pointed out that the Comox Road site is directly opposite a playground. He also emphasized the fact that city has to purchase the property whereas Lubbock Square already belongs to the city and considered highly desirable as a fire hall site by underwriters because it is above the main business section of the city which they claim is most vulnerable.

Ald. Mrs. Hall, chairman of the fire and lighting committee, says she sees no objection to the Comox Road site. The fire engine on call would be traveling very slowly as it came out of a building at that point and a suitable protective fence could be strung around the playground at little cost. She also says the site lends itself admirably to the proposed architect's plan with the ground sloping as it does away from the old highway to give quick access to either residential sections of the city over Millstone Bridge or downtown business buildings.

Another bylaw, it is expected, will be presented to voters probably in September in an effort to get a new badly needed fire hall and police quarters up before next summer. The bylaw was defeated in May, along with the controversial cemetery site proposal.

COWICHAN BAY FOLK SPLIT ON HARBOR PLAN'S MERITS

DUNCAN—Opinion at Cowichan Bay is divided on a proposal to have the bay declared a public harbor in charge of a harbor master. This was revealed Monday when the public works committee of Duncan Chamber of Commerce met bay residents to discuss the question.

A poll of those present by George Whittaker, committee chairman, showed an equal number for and against, but a larger number was neutral.

Chief opposition centred around the administration of small vessels.

There was much discussion on the relative importance of tourism and the lumber industry to the bay.

Views will be weighed by the committee before making a recommendation to the Chamber of Commerce.

Cariboo Teacher to Head Campbell River School

CAMPBELL RIVER—Chosen from a list of 15 applicants, Joseph Philipson of Williams Lake, in the Cariboo, has been appointed principal of the combined elementary and high school in Campbell River School District No. 72.

Mr. Philipson succeeds Francis J. Orme, who resigned in July following his appointment to a school inspectorship. The new principal has been active in the community life of Williams Lake. For the last five years he has been secretary of that town's Chamber of Commerce and was to the forefront in PTA activities. He also headed the Williams Lake Elks' lodge.

Trustees of District 72 are making a formal protest to the department of education because they had only eight days to choose a new principal. Notification of Mr. Orme's resignation was received Monday.

Hectic Time So Far Socred Picnic Told

Close to 1,000 persons attended a Social Credit picnic Monday at Elk Lake marking the start of the government's third year in office.

Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi termed the past two years "hectic" as his government "faced the people with a small minority but courageous leaders."

Government accomplishments were "a drop in the bucket to what we want to accomplish," he said.

Regarding Frobisher Ventures plan for development of B.C.'s northwest, the minister said the conditional permit which will be awarded did not make any "commitment" to the company, because "the resources belong to you. We are only trying to administer them correctly."

On the platform with Mr. Gagliardi were MLAs William Chant, Victoria; Mrs. Lydia Arsen, Victoria; Herbert Bruch, Esquimalt; John Tisdale, Saanich and Einar Gundersen, former finance minister.

Jim Roberts read a wire received from Premier Bennett to J. D. Johnston, president of the Victoria constituency which called for a "rededication" to Socred principles.

Sports events, which got underway shortly before 3 p.m., consisted of games and races for both youngsters and parents. An outside supper was served at 6.30 p.m.

Thirty-five children from the Protestant Orphanage were present as guests of the party.

Three Australians Take Honors in 110-Yard Freestyle Final

Six athletes from four countries dive for the water at the start of the record-breaking 110-yard freestyle swimming final Monday at Empire Pool in Vancouver, won by Australia's 18-year-old student, Jon Henricks, in the record time of 56.6 seconds. Henricks was pushed to his record-shattering performance by countrymen Cyrus Weld and Rex

Aubrey, who were second and third, respectively. George Parks of Hamilton was fourth. Here, diving for water, are left to right, Barington Roper, Jamaica; Park, Henricks, Weld, Aubrey and Kin Man Chenung of Hong Kong. Chenung finished fifth and Roper was sixth.

B.E.G. HIGHLIGHTS

By BRITISH UNITED PRESS

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—The British Empire Games at a glance:

"Hurrying Hector" Hogan of Australia enters the 220-yard dash at Empire Stadium today in an effort to regain prestige he lost Saturday in the race he was supposed to capture handily.

Hogan, co-holder of the world 100-yard record of 9.3 seconds, was off form Saturday and had to settle for a third placing in his specialty behind Trinidad's boastful Mike Agostini and Don McFarlane of Hamilton, Ont.

The chunky 23-year-old from Brisbane was clocked at 21.3 for the furlong last February in his home country. Besides battling the cream of the Empire's track crop, however, Hogan will have to throw off the physical and mental shackles of a pulled leg muscle.

He hurt his leg while competing at meets in the United States recently, and the effects of the injury showed Saturday. Hogan got off to a powerful start in the 100, but faded at the 75-yard mark and never caught up to the Trinidad whippet and McFarlane.

However, he is confident he will nip both Agostini and Les Laing of Jamaica, who also made a poor showing in the preliminaries of the 100-yard run Saturday.

Hogan is expected to have little trouble winning his first heat in the 220, but may run into difficulty in the semi-final. Opposing him in the second heat of the 220 will be Pat Walker of Canada and Nigeria's Abimola Erinle.

Field experts agree unanimously that the four-year-old British Empire Games discus throw mark will tumble today, and they picked a Canadian to do the standard setting.

Canada's biggest chance of winning a gold medal in the track and field division rests on the muscular shoulders of Roy (Gino) Pella, Sudbury, Ont. Pella, who almost did not get here for the July 9-10 Canadian trials, will meet his roughest competition from Johannes Du Plessis of South Africa and Mark Pharoah of England when he begins tossing the plate.

It is expected that Pella, if he has a good day, will toss the discus well over the 170-foot mark, exceeding by at least 12 feet the Games record of 158 1/2 set by Ian M. Reed of Australia in Auckland, New Zealand, in 1950.

England's fencers continued to show their supremacy Monday as three men advanced into the eight-man finals of the men's individual foil championships.

Australia has two competitors in the finals, and Canada, Wales and New Zealand each sent a single delegate into the tough competition.

England's A. L. N. Jay and E. O. R. Reynolds of Wales each registered five wins in the first pool Monday of the men's individual foil competition.

Sam Gardiner and Dick Williams of Canada slid into fourth spot in the lawn bowling doubles at the Games yesterday with a 24-13 win over South Africa.

Northern Ireland's team of William Rosbotham and Percy Watson kept first place, however, by defeating Hong Kong. Northern Ireland had four wins, one tie and a loss after six rounds.

A preliminary comparison of times recorded by hand watches and the automatic photometer, on trial at the British Empire Games indicated today that "fast" watches were being carried by official timers in track and field.

E. L. Leard, assistant timer, who is compiling comparative figures, said that in some cases hand watches, upon which official times are recorded, were 1-10th second faster than the photometer on the opening day.

"This is only natural," he added. "When the starting gun is fired, it takes a human being an instant or two to react and start his watch. The photometer starts immediately."

"In general, the timing appeared to be very accurate," he added.

The best oarsmen in the British Commonwealth began competing for the rowing championship of the British Empire Games today 45 miles east of the throngs at Empire Stadium.

Heats of the singles sculls and fours drew top competitors from England, Australia, Canada and New Zealand, with English and Canadian eights crews staging a demonstration.

The finals of the eights, singles and fours will be held Wednesday over the 2,000 metre rowing course.

EMPIRE GAMES REVIEW

Halberg Forgotten Miler

INSIDE THE TRACK—Monday afternoon I watched the forgotten man of the miracle mile working out at UBC Stadium. Murray Halberg of New Zealand was working all alone while a stone's throw away was the roar of the crowd from the swimming stadium a claiming Australia's clean sweep of first, second and third place in the men's 110-yard freestyle.

A man who looks and runs less like a champion miler would be hard to imagine. A slight blond with an arm he favors while running as a result of an old rugby injury, Halberg kept methodically swinging through paced 440s, and jogging in between.

He is still trying to get used to cinder tracks as all New Zealand tracks are grass, so he was wearing tennis shoes instead of spikes.

This boy has run the mile in 4:04 and holds a victory over incomparable Mal Whitfield. He is quietly working while the fanfare understandably goes to Landy and Bannister, but you get the feeling while watching him that if by some miracle he was to win the miracle mile the least surprised man in the stadium would be Halberg.

Victoria's Joe Hageart, who this year in Victoria broke the Canadian midget 440-yard record, is over here by courtesy of the B.C. Athletic Round Table Society, who picked the young lad to come to the Games at their expense from six districts in B.C. Joe is having the time of his life living in Empire Village and he is quartered with the Northern Rhodesia team.

Cumberland's Terry Toback spent the afternoon trying to learn how to run a little closer to the white line on the inside of his lane. Terry is so long geared that he always has had trouble with corners, but the Empire Stadium track here has short straightaways and wide corners so it should work to Terry's advantage. However, if he even gets through the final he will have done a real job for a kid who is tasting international competition for the first time in his short two-year career. He has already won his way to anchoring the Canadian mile relay team, which stands a good chance of getting an elusive gold medal.

One thing that has become very evident even at this early stage of the games is that Canada's athletes have definitely improved over the past four years since the last Empire Games. As yet there are not too many winners, but if you notice they are real close up and in some cases in second place, and those second places have been so close that only a tenth of a second has separated them from the winners. It gives me real hope that by 1958 when the games are held in Cardiff, Wales, the natives of Cardiff will hear the strains of "O Canada" played for the winners of quite a few events.

Tyees Sharp in Victory

Bottler Winner in 9th-Inning Rally

By RON COULTER
Victoria 6, Salem 5

Victoria Tyees may not be the class of the Western International Baseball League, but neither are they the weak sister of the circuit.

Monday night at Royal Athletic Park, the fifth-place Tyees earned a little more respect from the high-flying Salem Senators as they hustled to a smart 6-5 victory over the American club.

Victory boosted Tyees up another notch in WIL ratings and moved the club to within six games of the front-running Lewiston Brones.

WALKS FATAL

An intentional walk to outfielder Neil Sheridan to fill the bases with one out in the last of the ninth inning, and a succeeding walk to Don Lundberg off relief pitcher Jose Rayle scored veteran Steve Mesner from third with Tyees' winning run.

Lanky Hal Flinn opened on the mound and showed well until lifted for pinch-hitter Bill Prior in the eighth inning. Bill Bottler came on in the ninth and looked highly effective in pitching to only three men, sending two down on strikes.

Tyees scored two quick runs in the first inning as Ron Jackson led off with a single, and manager Don Pries followed with his first out-of-the-park home run this season.

Milt Martin singled to score Dain Clay in the fourth inning and Neil Sheridan drove in two runs in the fifth frame.

Gene Tansell hit a two-run homer for Salem in the third to tie the game at 2-2, and after Tyees had taken a three-run lead in the fifth Salem came back to deadlock the score again in the seventh as they reached Flinn for five hits and three runs.

Mesner opened the Victoria ninth with a walk. Pries popped out to third and Clay followed with a long double high off the fence in centre to set the stage for Tyees' ninth-inning victory.

Roenspie, who came on for Salem in the seventh, suffered the mound defeat.

Sheridan and Martin paced Tyees at the plate, each with two singles. Tansell clubbed his homer and a single, and Deyo hit three singles for Salem.

Aquatic Marks Tumble; Henricks New Champion

By BILL WALKER, Times Sports Editor

EMPIRE POOL, Vancouver—Around Victoria there was a time when Peter Salmon was a fad in swimming that everyone thought might stick.

But as good as Peter was—and he did win the 110-yard freestyle event at Auckland in 1950—any flickering flame that still existed hereabouts from that triumph was certainly snuffed out for all time Monday.

For this was Australia's day in the water, and there wasn't only one Peter Salmon in the field, nor two—but three.

The Aussies in their green sweatsuits stood one, two, three on the rostrum of honor at the finish of the 110-yard freestyle. They all cracked the existing games mark of 59.6 held by Bob Pirie of Canada, as did two others of the six finalists.

Jon Henricks, a lithe crew-cut youngster of 18 years and blessed with an infectious grin, who already jointly owns the world mark for the distance (made in a 25-yard pool), literally leaped through the water in the final 25 yards to set a new games mark of 56.6.

He was followed by his countrymen Cyrus Weld and Rex Aubrey. Canada's George Parks was fourth, and he, too, shattered the previous record.

"I am disappointed," Henricks said afterwards. "I am not disappointed in winning, but in my time. I had a bad turn out who already jointly owns the I might have done better."

Lorraine Helped in Sweep

At that it was Henricks who caught the crowd's fancy just as Lorraine Crapp, a comely 15-year-old from the land of the kangaroo, had done earlier in winning the women's 110-yard freestyle.

Weld and Aubrey were close to Henricks at the halfway mark, but he pulled away like a hot rod from a stop light in the final going. Weld and Aubrey were only inches apart at the finish.

Miss Crapp had it tougher. She said afterwards: "I wasn't sure. I thought I had it, but I wasn't sure."

And the reason she wasn't sure, although her margin of victory was clear, was that Toronto's Virginia Grant refused to yield until the final few yards. It was that close between this pair of teenagers—Miss Grant is one year Miss Crapp's senior—and the epic struggle that had the crowd of 4,000 on its feet saw another winning time of 1:16.1.

Sara Did Her Teen-Aged Best

Canada's Lenore Fisher was second to Miss Harrison in 1:17.5, but her time was third best for the day. Jean Stewart of New Zealand took the second heat in 1:16.9.

The record-breaking may go on at the pool, for the class to do it is here in abundance. But before it does, there will likely be many a pensive word spoken and perhaps the odd tear dropped, for a winsome little Miss from Ontario.

Thirteen-year-old Sara Barber of Brantford was Canada's other entry in the 110-yard heats. Sara was the sentimental choice as she shyly awaited the start. She knew she was in over her head, so to speak; but even though she finished last, she gave it her best try before quietly disappearing in the hubbub that surrounded the winner.

History of a sort was made too in the heats of the 220-yard men's breaststroke. For this was the only swim event so far in the present games that a record did not fall.

Peter Jarvis of England topped the qualifying finalists in the time of 2:53.2, with favored David Hawkins of Australia third, behind New Zealand's John Doms. The games record is 2:51.9.

Aussies Hold Slim Empire Games Lead

VANCOUVER (CP)—Australia and England entered the fourth day of British Empire Games competition today in a tight battle for leadership in the unofficial team standing.

The Aussies, with 101 points, were seven up on the Britons.

Both hold a big bulge over third-place New Zealand with 65 points, Canada, in the show slot going into Monday's competition, dropped to fourth with 62 points.

England opened Monday's activities with 68 points, 21 more than the Aussies, but the Englishmen lost their lead when the Wales favored athletes from Down Uganda. Under picked up 54 points in British Guiana swimming, wrestling and fenc. Hong Kong ing. England was held to 26 Scotland

HARRISON PHILOSOPHICAL ABOUT RING THUMPING

NEW YORK (UP)—Heavyweight Tommy Harrison, of Los Angeles, said thankfully today, "I'm glad he didn't throw that last one."

He said it about Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn, a youngster who had murdered in his fists but mercy in his heart as he stopped Harrison at 129 of the first round Monday night in Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena.

Patterson, fifth-ranking light heavyweight contender, floored heavy-weight Harrison twice and then gestured imploringly with his gloves for referee Mark Conn to stop the widely televised bout. Conn did.

"I'm glad he didn't hit me again, if I was as bad off as everybody says," continued Harrison, who had suffered his second consecutive first-round knockout. "I mighta been truly hurt."

Local Cricket Side Draws With Toronto

By TONY BRISTOWE

A closely-fought cricket game between Victoria and the Toronto Ramblers ended in a draw at Beacon Hill Monday afternoon. Not, however, before the spectators had had their money's worth of fast scoring, as Victoria made a gallant, if hopeless, attempt to force a win.

For the Ramblers, this was the finale to a hectic tour through the western provinces—the first of its kind ever undertaken in Canadian cricket history.

Ramblers' troubles all sprang from the start of their innings, which was unnecessarily slow. Lewis and Morley batted with little enterprise against the swing bowling of Twamley and Goddard, and the Ramblers were soon behind the clock.

The game suddenly came alive when the opening partnership was broken, and to everyone's surprise Payne and V. Barber surrendered with almost no fight so that four wickets were down for 40.

Then came a period of bright cricket as Whiffen attempted to claim back the lost initiative. He was helped by A. Barber, but should easily have been run out half way through his innings of 45. The remaining batsmen all went for the runs, but had difficulty in scoring off accurate bowling. Finally, after some three hours batting, the innings was declared closed for 131 for 9 wickets.

Victoria was left with some 80 minutes in which to score the runs, not a very hopeful proposition.

However the batsmen were soon looking for runs, and four wickets fell rather quickly as they tried to force the pace. Then Seale came in to join Parkins, and for a while all was fireworks. Sixes and fours pushed the total up at a merry rate, and after Parkins was out Twamley carried on the good work.

The remaining batsmen all scored runs, but the sands were running out. As time was called Goddard and Stanley were left surveying the scene of battle undefeated, the score at 111 for seven wickets.

Konkin Gives Tillicums Series Lead

A shut-out ball game opened the best-of-five semi-finals series between senior B men's softball teams Tillicums and Esquimalt Athletics at Heywood Park Monday night.

Bill Konkin, hurling for Tillicums, gave up only one hit to lead his team to a 10-0 victory over Esquimalt.

Jack Elliott was top hitter for the night, banging out four hits. Len Anderson and Konkin each picked up three hits.

Tribe Can Shake Yanks, Stengel—In One Swoop

Key AL Series Opens; Brooks Win Marathon

Casey Stengel has said he ought to get fired if his New York Yankees don't win the pennant this year.

Thus the high-flying Cleveland Indians, who open a three-game home series tonight with the defending world champions, get a chance not only to set the Yankees back in their worst position since 1948, but, in all likelihood, also get Stengel out of their hair.

Nobody actually believes Stengel will be dismissed if the Indians dethrone the Yankees. It is quite possible, however, that the 64-year-old manager may call it a career. He has said on more than one occasion that he will retire when the Yankee pennant string comes to an end.

WHERE IT HURTS

Although only 2½ games behind the pace-setting Indians, the Yanks are four games behind in the important lost column.

"Those four behind in the lost column is what really hurts," Casey said Monday night as his team left for Cleveland. "We've got to cut that down while we got the chance. We may not have many chances later."

The Yankees are not counting on a Cleveland collapse any more. They realize this is the best team the Indians have had since '48 when Cleveland won its last pennant.

Both teams were idle Monday as the major league activities were limited to only three games.

Padres Pare Stars' Lead

By the Canadian Press

Once again San Diego has narrowed Hollywood's Pacific Coast League lead to a half game, and Tuesday night the Padres have another chance to take over first place in the standings.

Hollywood got 10 base hits Monday night, one a resounding home run by Lee Walls with a man on base. San Diego was held to four hits by Ed Wolfe and Forrest Main. Yet, San Diego won the game, 4-3.

The big blow that proved to be the decider was Earl Rapp's home run in the sixth inning with one aboard.

Hollywood was blanked until the eighth by Bill Wright, but in that inning Lee Walls collected a home run with one on. Al Lyons, the handy outfielder-pitcher, came in to stop a rally, but the Stars got to him for another run in the ninth and barely missed evening up the ball game. Wright was the winner for his 12th against two losses.

The only other game played in the league Monday night saw Oakland spank Sacramento 6-1. Ernie Broglio, recalled from the California League, set the Sacs down with two hits. The 18-year-old Modesto rookie wasn't around at the finish, however. He was as wild as ever and issued nine bases on balls. The veteran Al Gettel took over in the eighth and blanked the Sacs.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Worrying is an art practiced with varying degrees of success by nearly everyone in the world.

As a matter of fact, each individual is convinced he is the best worrier of all.

About the only thing the average citizen does not worry about is whether any other worrier is a better worrier than he.

No doubt you yourself are proud of your record as a plain and fancy worrier, free-style or catch-as-catch-can.

But the fact of the matter is, unless you practice constantly, you cannot be a really top-grade worrier.

Worriers are not born, they are made. To perfect yourself as a worrier, you have to worry over a wide variety of subjects, constantly adding to the long list of problems.

It is not enough to worry about simple matters, such as the atomic bomb, communism, the high cost of living, or whether the light really goes out when you close the refrigerator door.

You need worry subjects with originality.

If you care to practice, you might have a work-out with the following list:

Worry about what happens to February 29 three years out of four.

Worry about where the electric light goes when you turn it out.

Worry about how to tell when a hard boiled egg is hard boiled, without sticking a fork in it.

Worry about how a radio wave gets into your set without being seen.

Worry about whether Aly Khan will ever settle down on the farm.

Worry about who wrote the complete works of William Shakespeare. Also, how do you spell Shakespeare?

Worry about aerating shaving cream. Do they build the cream around the holes or put the holes in the cream?

Worry about who put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's shower.

And, for a good, all-round, six-day-a-week worry, worry about how stuff like this ever gets in the paper.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A small bush fire which was blamed on a cigarette thrown from a passing car busied six firemen from Langford Forest Service station on Thetis Lake Road Monday afternoon. It was quickly suppressed. City firemen attended two small rubbish and grass fires.

Actual gas explosions will be demonstrated at a lecture in the Sirocco Club Thursday at 8 p.m. by two representatives of the U.S. bureau of mines, S. M. Kintz and H. F. Browne. The lecture is one of a series sponsored by the electrical industry of Victoria and will embrace flame propagation and explosion-proof electrical equipment and application of the electrical code to the petroleum industry.

Leonardus Noteboom, 738 Yates, was fined $25 in Esquimalt police court Monday on a careless driving charge. He admitted to passing a stop sign and being involved in a collision with damages of $415 resulting. He will be allowed to drive for business purposes only for a period of two months.

Three drivers were fined in city court today for careless driving. Edward Rainald, North Park, Street, paid $40 after an accident at Graham and Topaz. Herbert Thomas Collision, 1560 Clive, who passed a stop sign and caused a collision at Bay and Shelbourne, July 22, was fined $35. His license was suspended. William Van Leusen, 1003 Russell, received the same sentence after an accident at Bay and Government.

A man who pleaded guilty to theft of a garden tractor was sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary.

DROODLES

(See Titles Below)

Before explaining this excellent Medical Doodle, I'd like to set something straight: Too many people (several, to be exact) are confusing Doodles with Noodles. There is no connection. Noodles are strips of dried dough sometimes served with cheese and tomato sauce. Doodles are not strips of dough and when I recently tried serving some with cheese and tomato sauce I ended up with a terrible sloppy mess (and also ruined my best pair of white duck trousers). However, I must admit that I also boiled a few selected Doodles with a Beef Bone and some carrots and they were rather tasty (had a definite Beef Bone and carrot flavor). NOTE: the above Doodle might also be titled: "A MOTH-EATEN GOLF CLUB." Then again, it might not.

Firm Royal Hand Shake for Navy Cadets

His Royal Highness, the Duke of Edinburgh, presented awards to six outstanding Royal Roads cadets at the close of ceremonies at HMCS Naden Monday. At left, he presents the Nixon memorial sword for the naval cadet possessing the highest officer-like qualities to Cadet Captain Morrison W. Hewitt, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hewitt, Hamilton, Ontario. Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard is in the background. Second photo shows the Queen's Canadian Dirk being presented to Cadet Charles Theodore Gunning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gunning of Peace River, Alta. The Dirk is awarded annually to the best all-round cadet completing his final professional training period. Selection is based on officer-like qualities, academic and athletic ability and sportsmanship.

Volker, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Volker, Whonnock, B.C., who received the department of national defense officer of the Watch Telescope for attaining the highest standing in academic studies and for officer-like qualities.

Chief Cadet Captain George P. Cassidy, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Cassidy, New Westminster, B.C., who received the department of national defense University Naval Training Division Sword as the best all-round cadet of UNTD members who have completed two years of required training.

Chief Cadet Captain Peter R. Grantham, 21, son of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Grant, Vancouver, who received the department of national defense UNTD Telescope award to the cadet selected as the runner-up to the winner of the UNTD Sword.

DUKE VISITS

mand. The Duke is no stranger to Ontario. He and the then Princess Elizabeth traveled in the ship from the Maritimes to Newfoundland during his first tour of Canada. Ontario was present at the Spithead Coronation review, and also represented Canada in Australia and New Zealand during the royal tour of the Antipodes.

Duke Chats With Polio Victim

Strict routine of ceremonies at HMCS Naden Monday was broken by the Duke of Edinburgh when he noticed Mrs. Judy Joy, wife of Lieut. H. D. Joy, watching from her wheelchair. Mrs. Joy, the former Judy Humphries, is a polio victim who spends part of her life in an iron lung. The Duke paused to chat with Mrs. Joy and shake hands with her young daughter, Kathleen, while Lieut. Joy looked on proudly. "It was a good parade today," the Duke commented in the course of a brief chat.

House for lunch before driving to Patricia Bay airport, where a crowd of 400 watched him board an RCAF plane for Port Hardy, where HMCS Ontario would take him aboard.

Cmdr. Steele presented Capt. J. McGillivray, deputy superintendent, naval armament department; A. C. N. Smith, manager, civilian personnel, and J. F. W. Houghton, district treasury officer.

An unexpected but honored guest at the morning ceremony at HMCS Naden was a distinguished U.S. Navy officer, Vice-Admiral F. S. Low, commanding officer of the western U.S. sea frontier from San Francisco.

The Duke left immediately for the admiral's residence at dockyard, where the flag officer entertained at an informal reception on the lawn, attended by senior staff officers.

He returned to Government House for lunch before driving to Patricia Bay airport, where a crowd of 400 watched him board an RCAF plane for Port Hardy, where HMCS Ontario would take him aboard.

Two visitors from San Francisco expressed open amazement at the colorful ceremonies. "We've never seen anything like this in our country. But we sure like it."

Among special guests in bleachers next to the reviewing stand were: Dr. Frank T. Fairley, M.P., Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, Attorney-General Robert Bonner, the mayor of Victoria, W. N. Chant, Reeve Sydney Pickles, P. A. Gagliardi, John Tisdale, Mr. and Mrs. James Arsen, P. A. Gibbs, Herbert Bruch, Cmdr. A. C. Wurtele, Senator Nancy Hodges and Harry Hodges and Judge J. B. Clearhugh.

As happens at nearly all such parades, one member of the guard-of-honor fainted. But he did not keel over until shortly after the Duke had inspected the ranks. He was removed to the shade of a tree and quickly recovered.

City, Union Stand Pat in Arbitration

Press, Public Barred From Hearing Before Baldwin

Civic officials and city outside workers today were thrashing out 10-month wage dispute before an arbitration board appointed to settle the contentious issue which led to a 14-day strike in June.

Col. D'Arcy Baldwin was appointed arbitrator at the request of both the city and civic employees following a strike which ended on June 30.

Mr. Baldwin's decision, to be handed down at some later date, will be final.

The board's hearing opened at the courthouse at 9:30 a.m. A. J. Patton, city solicitor, represented the City Council. Ronald Grant is legal adviser for the Civic Employees' Protective Association, local No. 50, T.L.C.

The city's stand remained unchanged. It opposed all wage demands on the grounds that the cost-of-living index in the past year had gone down.

The union also "stuck to its guns," arguing for:

1. Wage parity with rates paid by Vancouver to its employees.
2. Annual increments for outside workers of some $35, spread over a five-year period.
3. City payment of 50 per cent of MSA coverage.
4. A 40-hour week for bridge operators now on a 44-hour week.

Roy Wooten, bargaining agent for union, strongly urged the board to put the outside workers on an increment schedule, over a five-year period similar to that applying to other branches of the civic services, such as the police department.

This would amount to paying employees an extra 4 cents an hour, or $7 per month, he said.

Wage rates paid by the B.C. Electric workers were listed as follows: laborer, $1.59; truck driver, $1.80; powdermen, $2.06.

The city rates were $1.31 for laborers; $1.39 for truck drivers, and $1.39 for powdermen.

The press and public were barred from the hearing by mutual consent of both parties.

Householders in the Beacon Hill-Dallas Road area will be asked to open their windows on the morning of Navy Day, August 11.

The reason: all ships in an eight-ship flotilla of RCN and USN units will fire full armament in a concerted broadside.

Opened windows will prevent the concussion of the guns from breaking glass.

The steam-past off Beacon Hill Park will take place between 10:15 and 11 a.m., with firing at approximately 10:30 a.m.

The flotilla will be led by the cruiser HMCS Ontario, whose six-inch main armament will predominate the firing. Other RCN ships will be HMCS ships New Glasgow and Stettler, frigates; and Comox, James Bay and Sault Ste. Marie, minesweepers.

The United States Navy has assigned two destroyer escorts, USS Rombach and Charles F. Brannon, to take part in the RCN's steam-past.

All ships in the fleet will be open to public inspection at HMC Dockyard and HMCS Naden during the afternoon. Both Dockyard and Naden will be open to the public to watch special Navy Day demonstrations.

Four Tyees Go To Portland As Team Folds

Four former players on the now defunct Victoria Tyee Western International Baseball League team have been sold to Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast League, Victoria club president Arthur Cox announced today.

Tyees returned their franchise to the league following a directors meeting this morning. Sold to Portland are local pitcher Berlyn Hodges, second baseman Ron Jackson and catchers Milt Martin and Don Lundberg. They are to report to the Pacific Coast League team on Wednesday or Thursday.

All players will be paid in full and those on option returned. Those not sold or on option will be released outright. Outfielder Tom Perez and Hal Flinn will be returned to San Francisco of the PCL while pitchers Bill Bottler and Phil Page return to Portland.

GUESTS' CARS LOOTED AT EMPRESS HOTEL

Windows Smashed In Six Robberies

Smash-and-grab thieves raided six cars parked at the Empress Hotel overnight. Extent of loss is not yet known but it is considerable.

Cars from Oregon, Washington, California and B.C. were among those robbed. Police said in each case side windows had been smashed with a brick.

Glove compartments had been rifled in each case. Five of the cars had been parked in the hotel drive, the sixth on Belleville Street.

A red plastic bag, apparently from one of the victimized cars was later found near one of the garden trails. It still contained clothing.

Hotel employees are checking with guests to ascertain losses. No one reported hearing any suspicious sounds during the night.

HBC Enlarges Sales Area for Easier Shopping

Due to increasing purchasing power in the Victoria buying area, the Hudson's Bay Company here today is engaged in adding an additional 6,000 square feet of selling space, split between the main and third floors.

The announcement was made by store manager C. N. Chubb. The expansion, to cost several thousands of dollars, will widen aisles, speed up customer flow and ease shopping, Mr. Chubb said. Space for the expansion is being taken from stockrooms. Stockroom walls are being moved back and all available space left utilized for merchandise waiting to go on the floor.

On the main floor will be five seven-foot-wide "through routes" from street to street. Incidental tables piled with merchandise will be eliminated.

Last time a major change in sales space was undertaken by HBC was nearly five years ago. Plans for the improved shopping areas were worked out by local architects from scale models. The job is expected to be finished by September 30 and work is being done with the least possible disruption of customer service.

ASK The TIMES

Q—I have noticed this year a lot of younger men watering the city boulevards, where in previous years older men did this work. Has there been a change in hiring policy?—C. A.

A—Persons who water boulevards are employed by the city parks department, but are hired through the city's personnel department. While there has not been any change in hiring policy, the parks department this year is trying a new system for watering boulevards. Instead of each man being assigned a beat, the boulevard men are working in teams and are covering the city once a week with two trucks. The new system means the men are on the go practically all day and some of the older men, employed in this capacity last year, said they found it too hard to keep up the pace. The parks department says more water is being put on the boulevards as a result of the new arrangement.

Q—In some parts of Canada a person's will is legal if entirely written in the person's own handwriting, dated and signed with no witnesses. What is the law in B.C. in this regard?—H. K.

A—This column does not answer legal questions. The intricacies of wills are things regarding which those directly interested may consult lawyers.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

50 Million to See Swim on TV

At least 50,000,000 North Americans will see the Florence Chadwick swim when she plunges into the waters off Victoria next Monday, Bapo-Times officials, estimated today.

The CBC has already shot considerable footage on Miss Chadwick's training. Victoria cameraman Paul Johnson is also doing a special assignment for the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York.

Meanwhile, negotiations are going forward for a "live" telecast of the swim, results of which depend on the surmounting of some technical difficulties.

The ABC network is investigating the matter through its Seattle outlet (KING), according to producer Lee Shulman.

If a proper beam can be worked out by engineers, many millions will be added to the viewing audience.

On the radio side, all major networks are planning to be in Victoria Sunday for a final briefing on the swim plans.

Some 2,500 newspapers will carry the Victoria story through Associated Press, Canadian Press, British United Press and other wire services.

So far, 10 TV and newsreel cameramen have booked reservations to cover the swim. Latest to report is Don McQuade of NBC-TV, newsreels, who told the Times Monday that New York had requested coverage for 27 TV stations and for nation-wide reporting on the "Camel Caravan" show.

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Leather Shop Features Tote Bags of Coach Hide

By PENNY SAVER

There's a new leather shop recently opened in Victoria and this morning I stepped inside its open door and browsed around. The sales girl was extremely friendly, and when I asked about the display of coach hide bags, she seemed only too pleased to tell me that coach leather is cowhide, tanned and dressed as the English have tanned and dressed it for many, many years.

It is strong, rugged and natural, for it has been tanned with bark, and dressed with animal fats as was the leather which was originally developed to keep out rain and snow and to take the knocks and buffets of the old coaching days.

Coach leather isn't bleached, doctored, doped or painted. It is genuine leather, and because its handsome natural appearance is preserved, it may be irregular in color and perhaps even scarred and marked. But that's where its individuality and beauty lies.

The English coach hide bags I saw today are fashioned on the style of the popular "tote" bag. So smartly are they styled that they would set off your very best shopping ensemble to perfection. Price per bag is $10.50.

A flat, rectangular music case of this leather is $11.25. Should the businessman want to use this case for valuable papers, there are two little keys which safely lock it up.

In the same shop I found another type of bag... a handbag for a little girl. It is made in the form of an umbrella, with a drawstring opening and is really unusually attractive.

It comes in two tartans, the Macbeth and the Royal Stewart. Price is $1.75.

Give me a call at 2-3131, if you'd like the name of the above-mentioned shop.

WHY GROW OLD?

Right Eating Habits Help Summer Slimming

It is a mistake to believe that all cold foods are slimming. Calories are heat units, or fuel. These must be burned up or stored as fatty deposits on you.

The trick is to cut out some of these high fuel foods if you wish to lose extra poundage, no matter what the weather is. However, the fattening foods are also heating. At the top of this list are the fats—salad oils and dressings, butter, margarine, cream, ice cream, cream sauces, fat meat, gravy, fried foods and so forth.

You can take your salads with lemon juice or one of the low-caloried dressings, drink skim milk or buttermilk rather than whole milk, broil rather than fry, eat lean meat only, go light on butter, and forget gravy and cream sauces.

Once you adopt this habit you will find that the pounds are dropping off and that you are cooler during the hot weather. Be certain that you neglect none of the essential foods but eat smaller portions than you have been accustomed to. Boost your fresh fruit and fruit juice intake as well as that of the green leafy vegetables and salads.

How New Is the New Look?

Christian Dior's new look isn't as new as 1952. Last year, as Hubert De Givenchy put in another bid for the flat-bosomed, boyish look (centre), Dior was still plugging the frilly and feminine "little-girl" look (right). (NEA Telephoto.)

AS WE LIVE

Husband Won't Go On Vacation Trip

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

It is not necessary to go away from home to have a vacation. A "home vacation" can be a lot of fun. A woman writes:

(Q)—"My last vacation with my husband was 22 years ago, on our honeymoon. When I ask him to go away, he tells me he doesn't want to go but that I can go by myself. We have a 19-year-old married daughter, living with us as her husband is in the Navy. Our son is 15. My mother-in-law, who is 76, is with us too. I told my husband his sister could take care of her for a few days or a week at the most, but he still tells me to go alone. Have you any suggestions? Should I take my son or should I just be content to stay at home? My husband bought himself a new car a year ago and he likes to spend his time polishing it and going back and forth to work in it. The furthest we have been in it was to spend a day with my sister."

(A)—Since you are so anxious to get away and you do need a change of scenery, why not take your son away with you for a few days? Go somewhere where you could go sight-seeing and have a good time. Your husband and married daughter should be able to manage alone for a few days.

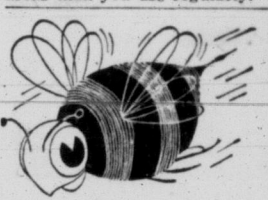

Then when your husband has his vacation from his job, why not suggest day trips in the car to see relatives and friends? As he is so fond of his car, he might find it fun to take short trips in it. It would give him the change of scenery everyone needs to be fit for the year of work ahead.

Plan to be back in time for dinner or for the evening. If he does not like to be away from home, you will have to content yourself with short trips. Once he gets started on such trips and has a good time, you may find that it won't be so hard to get him to stay away from home overnight and perhaps even for a while week-end.

For your copy of Elizabeth Hurlock's new 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems," send 15 cents in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope care of this newspaper.

In humid or rainy weather, highly glazed woods may fog over with a "milky" finish. If it doesn't come off with furniture polish, try washing it with a tablespoonful of olive vinegar per quart of water. Wipe dry. If the furniture persists in fogging over, it should be re-finished.

If you think your cheekbones are too prominent, you can play them down by using a darker powder base in those areas than you use regularly.

TODAY'S RECIPE

HAWAIIAN SALAD

One tablespoon salt, 1 cup cubed cooked chicken, ham or lamb, 3 quarts boiling water, 1 cup chunk-style pineapple, drained; 8 ounces elbow macaroni (2 cups), 1 cup diced celery, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, pepper.

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water. Drain and chill. Add mayonnaise, chicken or meat, pineapple and celery. Toss lightly. Season with pepper and additional salt, if desired. Chill thoroughly. Serve on crisp lettuce. Makes four servings.

If you have a pretty hairline, show it off. Don't hide it under bangs. Comb your hair back from the forehead.

Oak, maple, fir, pine and other wood floorings should be sealed for protection. Varnish, lacquer or shellac is suitable. This finish will not easily become ground off from dirt and foot-treads if regular wax care is given to it. The best type of wax to use on wood floors is the kind requiring polishing. Deteriorated wood floors, in particular, should be given polishing, rather than self-polishing, wax treatment.

Blinking your eyes often throughout the day will help to keep them bright looking.

Wed at St. Paul's Church, Sidney, Couple Now on Motor Trip in States

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace Grieg are motoring on honeymoon in the United States, following their week-end wedding. The former Norma Winifred Nunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Nunn, Saanichton, exchanged vows with the son of Mrs. K. Grieg, Summerland, B.C., at a ceremony at St. Paul's United Church, Sidney.

Rev. G. H. Glover officiated in a lovely setting of flowers, white gladioli, pink carnations and mauve and pink sweet peas being used in profusion while guest pews were marked with white satin bows, pale pink roses and ivy. Organ music was played by Eric V. Edwards and soloist, Mrs. Helen Tait sang "O Perfect Love" during signing of the register. The bride's classically designed gown had a bouffant skirt of nylon tulle, a high fashion note being the embroidered bodice, stiffened bodice and jacket in fine Italian straw. A wide heart-shaped neckline and lily point sleeves were features of the gown. Her nylon net veil flowed from a small latched cap, to fingertip length. Baby white gladioli adorned the cap and she carried white gladioli circled by pink roses. Centred in the bouquet were forefests of the lily gladioli, a species originated by her late grandfather, S. Arrowsmith.

Secure, Happy Life of Canadians Not Possible in Struggling Israel

MONTREAL (CP) — Mrs. Rachel Kagan, one of Israel's leading social workers and a former politician, says she wishes her countrymen could be as happy as Canadians. The grey-haired, sun-tanned woman who was one of the signers of the proclamation setting up Israel as an independent Zionist republic, came to Canada for an international conference of social workers at Toronto and later toured Ontario rural areas. She came to Montreal to confer with officers of the Canadian Hadassah organization, federated with the Women's International Zionist Organization of which she is vice-chairman. Elected to her country's first parliament in 1949, Mrs. Kagan gave up her seat to devote herself to the social problems of the struggling young nation. During her visit to Canada, she said, "I questioned Canadians of many different racial backgrounds, Ukrainians, Dutch and Poles... all seemed to have the simple, secure happiness of children. In Israel such happiness is not possible. We have too many problems. Our land was neglected for centuries and it is a struggle to make it fertile again. We are happy to have a country of our own, but ours cannot be the happiness based on a good home and security that you Canadians enjoy." Israel's greatest social problem, she said, is teaching immigrants from 64 different countries to get along with each other. Unlike Canada, Israel could not be selective and had to accept anyone who wanted to come, regardless of age, health or cultural background. "Many of them have to be taught how to use a bathtub, how to sit on a chair and how to eat the foods Israel can produce. And we must teach them to farm. The economic health of our country depends on the land as we have no mineral wealth." Mrs. Kagan understands the immigrants' problems because she herself emigrated to what was then-called Palestine 35 years ago from Russia with her physician husband. She took up voluntary social work nearly 30 years ago after a visit to the slums in the Old City of Jerusalem. However, her main job, she said, is bringing up her two sons.

Hats To Be Real; No More Trifles Say Paris Salons

PARIS (AP) — Milliners raised the curtain Monday on showings of fall and winter fashions, and revealed that honest to goodness hats are back. In the showy glitter of the salons of Maxim's restaurant, France's 12 leading hat makers appeared to have reverted to the 18th century for inspiration. Gone are the bits of fluff, the flowers wired to thin strips of velvet. What were shown were fully decorated pieces of headgear, hair-covering clothes, berets, bonnets, calots and toques. Abouy led off, tipping the trend with his first group of tight-fitting velours and felts, set well back on the head and cut with flattering widow's peaks. The China reds and Ming blues were clear, flattering and youthful colors. Red and blue, in fact, dominated all the collections in varying hues and names. Ornel, dean of the Parisian modistes, used red felt in a bewitching Dutch cap fitted snugly over the ears and artfully draped in back. Every one of these top cour-turiers has used buttons to emphasize the new season's line. Ronald Paterson, young Scotch designer showing as a member of the exclusive Incorporated Society of London Fashion Designers for only the second time, showed the most original as well as the boldest collection of all. Stressing a relaxed, feminine silhouette, he produced a line which could have been just sloppy but was, in fact, both chic and highly wearable. Like his colleagues, he used buttons on day clothes as emphasis, buttons set way down below the waist and finished at the hem. On one camel-colored, long-haired wool coat, for example, Paterson's effective buttons began only at the neckline, although a "dummy" pair was set just below the waist. This same coat introduced an original new length—the 9-10 length, which makes a smart ensemble when worn over a matching suit or dress.

Married in Mission City, Couple to Live in Victoria

Ester Reed, daisies and roses arranged in baskets and pew markers of heather and tiny wedding bells decorated St. Andrew's United Church, Mission City, B.C., for the wedding which united in marriage Margaret Mary Wardrop, daughter of Mr. William Wardrop, Den-och, B.C., with Lancelot Hodgkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hodgkin, 1418 Fernwood Road, Victoria. Rev. D. Donaldson officiated and organist was Mrs. T. A. Walker. "O Perfect Love" was sung as a duet by Mrs. W. Penn and Mrs. G. H. Morrow during the signing of the register. A gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net over white satin with scalloped redingote skirt of lace, separating at front to reveal the net in crisp pleats, was worn by the bride. The strapless, puffed bodice was topped with a matching lace jacket having lily point sleeves and tiny Peter Pan collar, frosted with sequins and pearls. Her sister's veil of embroidered net was held in place by a scalloped halo of net dotted with flowers. She carried a spray of deep red roses and white heather. Matron of honor for her sis-

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

All sorts of odd conditions at home are likely to cause you to lash out at companions who actually have nothing to do with delays, obstacles. Put blame where it rightly belongs, but be gentle to all about you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Most interesting ideas seen through your consciousness, but work interests can render them null and void unless you make point to write them down or tell them to purposeful associates who have your interests first.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Temptation to part with some property just to have some fun no good now, so be sure you seek new avenues to add to your revenue, possessions instead of parting with them.

CANCER (June 22 to July 22)

You are so full of good ideas that you don't know where to start living them, but make sure you do nothing that will disturb present harmony at home. Seek data you need to attain cherished goals.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21)

Fretting over your own perplexities and ones of those close to you helps no one, for anxiety never solved any problem; be objective, let others see your impersonal approach for then they too have confidence.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23)

Making good with good friend for better way to get your ambitions requires you bring your views up to date in streamlined methods that take away from big expenditures. Be precise, detailed.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN WEDNESDAY

Wednesday's child is one of those very unusual and highly expressive youngsters who will leave every mark of your intelligent direction to avoid going off on tangents, due to the innate brilliance in your offspring's chart. It is advisable that you have the finest types of persons and the most interesting groups of individuals about so that your progeny can fit in with those of equal or like talents, which tend toward research, designing, governmental. New Age occupations of all types that have unusual, unique channels.

Florence Chadwick's Day

As our big day draws nearer and nearer, my mail box brings more and more messages of good luck from people in Victoria.

The mail man dropped off a couple of items you might like to hear about. They typify the kindness to which I have been treated in my stay here.

First of all, let me read you a few lines from a letter I received from people who signed themselves "A family of admirers." I can sincerely say it is the most moving letter I have ever received and one that I shall always treasure.

The letter explains that the family has watched a number of my workouts and have become convinced that I will be successful in swimming the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

The letter goes on to say: "As you have so often said, 'God willing, I will make it, you will make it and you will be sustained by that greater something which has always been a part of your life and which has guided you throughout your whole career.'"

"We know you will make it and we all will be watching you as you take off for I will be pulling right with you, every stroke of the way."

A letter like that hits you somewhere and gives a terrific lift to your spirits. Not knowing the names of the people who wrote the letter, I am unable to thank them properly. But right now, I want to extend all my thanks for the wonderful message.

The other item came in an odd-shaped box and I was mighty curious when I unwrapped it. You can imagine how surprised I was when I opened the box and found it packed full of genuine four-leaf clovers. I didn't know there were that many in the world.

A little poem that accompanied the clovers said that there was one for every mile of the way from here to Port Angeles.

Again, all my thanks.

City Air Officer Goes to Belgrade

Two senior RCAF officers will take up appointments this month as air attaches in Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, Ottawa announced today.

Group Capt. Richard O. Shaw, 39, of Victoria leaves his post as senior air staff officer at 12 Air Defense Group headquarters in Vancouver to become air attaché at Belgrade.

The Czechoslovakian assignment goes to Group Capt. Arthur G. Kenyon, 39-year-old commanding officer at the RCAF's station Summerside in Prince Edward Island.

37 Saved as Airliner Crash Lands in Field

PRESTON, Conn. (UP)—An Air France luxury super-constellation made a crash landing today in a potato patch and burst into flames. But all 37 passengers and crew escaped death.

About 30 passengers and crew members were taken to nearby Norwich, Conn., for hospital examination and treatment. The hospital said most of them were given first aid and released, but "five or six" would require hospitalization. None of the injuries was regarded as critical.

The four-motor plane was flying from Paris to New

Italian Party Tops K2

2nd Highest Peak Scaled

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—An Italian mountain climbing expedition messaged today that it has conquered 28,520-foot K2—Mt. Godwin Austin—the world's second highest peak and, since the conquest of Everest, the globe's highest unclimbed mountain.

The message received here said the victory was scored on July 31 but did not name the expedition member or members who reached the top.

The successful ascent was made in spite of the death from pneumonia on June 21 of Mario Puchoz, considered the expedition's strongest member. He was buried near the grave of an American climber, Arthur Gilkey, killed in an unsuccessful attempt by a U.S. expedition to reach the peak last year.

ONLY EVEREST HIGHER
Only 752 feet lower than Everest, K2 is the highest peak in the main range of the Karakoram mountain system across north Kashmir.

It has been a target of climbers since the Duke of Abruzzi led an expedition there in 1909. Four Americans perished in an attempt to climb it in 1930.

By their feat, the Italian climbers beat to the top a determined American who has tried unsuccessfully twice to reach the summit. He is Dr. Charles S. Houston of Exeter, N.H.

Houston first led an expedition to K2 in 1938. He also headed last year's American expedition, which reached 26,000 feet before a blinding blizzard turned it back. Last February Pakistan granted him permission to try again in 1955.

3 German Firm Members at Valdmanis Hearing

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Three representatives of the German machine company Dr. Alfred Valdmanis is accused of defrauding appeared as prosecution witnesses Monday at the long-delayed opening of his preliminary hearing.

The Crown thus launched its case against the 47-year-old Latvian-born economic expert more than three months after he was arrested in St. Andrews, N.B., and charged with defrauding the Newfoundland government and the German firm of $120,000. He allegedly engineered the "swindle" while serving as chief of provincial economic development.

The preliminary hearing is being held privately because Newfoundland courts apply the law that permits magistrates in most parts of the Commonwealth to bar the press from such initial proceedings.

The only witness to be fully identified Monday was Herbert Marx.

More Pictorial Highlights of Duke's Visit

J. C. Hibbard (centre photo), from the parade ground to the Naden jetty. Bottom photo shows the inspection party, led by the Duke, with Lt.-Cmdr. John Busher carrying drawn sword. Behind the Duke is Admiral Hibbard and Commodore K. L. Dyer.

Tyees Quit; Victoria Loses Pro Baseball

Club Forfeits WIL Franchise

By RON COULTER

Victoria has lost professional baseball.

And what could conceivably be a deadly blow has been struck at the foundation of the Western International Baseball League.

Some 300 fans who paid admittance to Monday night's game here at Royal Athletic Park between the Victoria Tyees and Salem Senators probably saw the last professional baseball game in Victoria for several years.

At a board of directors' meeting this morning it was decided that, due to very poor attendance at home this season, the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Club Ltd. could not carry on further, club president Arthur Cox told The Times today.

Thus, Victoria joins Calgary and Spokane on the sidelines. Calgary and Spokane encountered financial difficulties earlier this season and as a consequence dropped from the league in June.

Club directors made no announcement today regarding the books of tickets covering remaining home games sold recently at a reduced price. It was reported by one director an announcement would be made Wednesday.

Mr. Cox said that league president Bob Abel had been notified that due to unfavorable circumstances the Victoria club has been forced to forfeit their franchise to the league.

The action is immediate and there will be no game tonight or in the future here.

Mr. Cox said "the directors regret very much being forced to take this step" and thanked fans and others who assisted the club.

He said "there is just not sufficient money to carry on" and added the directors are grateful for the job done by manager Don Pries.

Tyees had only five home games in June, due to city outside workers' strike and the loss of Calgary and Spokane to the league.

While the strike was in effect, Tyees switched some home games to Vancouver and worked on a percentage basis.

Another series was transferred to Wenatchee, and attendance there was so low that money was lost.

Four-Man Team Works Three Hours, Save Life of Boy

FORT ST. JAMES, B.C. (CP)—Four men applied artificial respiration for three hours without let-up to save the life of a 14-year-old swimmer Monday.

Thomas Dominic was revived after he was pulled from the waters of Stuart Lake near here. Witnesses said he "became tired, collapsed and sank."

Bobo Rockefeller Gets $5.5 Million In 15 Minutes

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Bobo Rockefeller, 37, was awarded a divorce today from the millionaire 42-year-old Winthrop Rockefeller.

She received $5,500,000 in settlement and custody of their small son, Winthrop Paul.

The divorce hearing took only 15 minutes.

RAIN THREATENS B.E.G.

Chataway Favored For 3-Mile Event

By BILL WALKER, Times Sports Editor

EMPIRE STADIUM, Vancouver—England's distance kings were looked on for gold-medal performances in today's track events of the British Empire Games.

Muggy skies greeted the athletes early this morning. Intermittent rain fell on Vancouver streets.

Some experts were predicting newly-crowned world champion Fred Green of England would run second to Chris Chataway in the three-mile event, while Peter Driver, Saturday's six-mile champion, was considered a serious threat for third. Chataway was barely half a step behind Green when they jointly set the record.

Yet it could be that New Zealand's great miler, Murray Halberg, or Australia's John Landy, the miracle miler, might mount the rostrum of honor.

Both were still entered late this morning, although it was rumored that Landy might withdraw.

Swimming takes over the spotlight again Wednesday with Canada's best hope for a gold medal being Lenore Fisher from Ocean Falls. Matched against South Africa's Joan Harrison in the 110-yard backstroke final, Miss Fisher is conceded a good chance.

Also on the agenda Wednesday is the final of the rowing eights between the UBC crew and England at the Vedder Canal. UBC is the definite underdog in this event. (See sports pages for Monday's results.)

TV Coverage Hits Games Attendance

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The Vancouver area should have been "blacked out" for television coverage of the British Empire Games. Ticket sales chairman Sam Rosen said today.

Rosen said telecasting was cutting into B.E.G. ticket sales to an "alarming extent." He said attendance has been reduced by at least 10 per cent.

Ticket sales have reached only $230,000 of the $385,000 needed, Rosen said, and it was uncertain whether they would even hit $350,000.

Last of the tickets for the track events at Empire Stadium Saturday were sold out this morning when 200 extra tickets for the Landy-Bannister race were snapped up.

Chevrons to Return

OTTAWA (BUP)—The wearing of wound stripes and service chevrons, discontinued after the Second World War, will be authorized for men and officers of the militia this fall, army headquarters announced today.

Canadian Appointed Chief Of UN Palestine Truce Body

MAJ.-GEN. E. L. M. BURNS

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. (Tommy) Burns of Canada has been appointed chief of staff of the United Nations truce supervision organization in Palestine.

Word of the appointment of the deputy minister of veterans' affairs to succeed Maj.-Gen. Vagn Bennike of Denmark came to the external affairs department from the UN today.

Gen. Burns will reach Jerusalem this week to take over his new job.

Gen. Burns is a native of Westmount, Que. He served with the signal corps during the First World War. During the Second World War Gen. Burns held various senior staff appointments and commands. He was appointed deputy minister of veterans' affairs in July, 1950.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tele- that hotels are full and all the vision and radio broadcasts have cost the British Empire Games co-ffers an estimated $80,000. Sam Rosen, manager of ticket sales, said here today.

Rosen, who said he felt Vancouver should have been blacked out to telecasts of the games, predicted sales would fall about $35,000 short of expectations.

"It was a mistake we made," he said. "I don't think anyone realized how seriously it would affect the games."

Telecasts of the games are being carried by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in the Vancouver area and by United States television interests in the Seattle area.

"It has hit us hardest in the Seattle area. They can get very good reception of most events down there and just aren't bothering to come up."

Philip on Way To Kitimat

Due Back in Vancouver After Viewing Smelter

KEMANO, B.C. (CP)—The Duke of Edinburgh left here by plane at 12:45 p.m., PDT, en route to Kitimat for an inspection of the Aluminum of Canada Company's smelter. He will leave Kitimat at 4:10 p.m. for Vancouver.

By DAVE STOCK, Times Staff Reporter

KEMANO — A monstrous man-made cavern in the heart of a mountain awed the Duke of Edinburgh today during a brief visit to this dying construction camp among British Columbia's spectacular fjords.

Flanked by Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe and high-ranking Aluminum Co. of Canada officials, His Royal Highness inspected the 750-foot long, 14-story high powerhouse (ultimately to be the world's largest) now humming deep in the innards of Mount DuBose.

(The mountain perpetuates the name of the Alcan vice-president, McNeely DuBose, who sparked the $200,000,000 Kemano-Kitimat project which was to cast its first aluminum ingot this afternoon.)

The Duke was scheduled to see the great smelters at Kitimat late this afternoon, before flying to Sandspit, in the Queen Charlottes, and then to Vancouver to attend the British Empire Games.

After viewing the great powerhouse, he penetrated farther into the mountain, through supply tunnels, to see the tremendous bore that carries the waters of an empire 10 miles to turn the giant turbines.

Accompanying the Duke on his subterranean tour, in addition to Mr. Howe, were R. E. Powell, president of Alcan, and Nathaniel V. Davis, handsome youthful chief of Alcan's parent, Aluminum Ltd., Secretary of State Lester B. Pearson, scheduled to be here, was not present.

The Duke motored the 11 miles from Kemano wharf to the powerhouse entrance. His

37 Saved as Airliner Crash Lands in Field

PRESTON, Conn. (UP)—An Air France luxury super-constellation made a crash landing today in a potato patch and burst into flames. But all 37 passengers and crew escaped death.

About 30 passengers and crew members were taken to nearby Norwich, Conn., for hospital examination and treatment. The hospital said most of them were given first aid and released, but "five or six" would require hospitalization. None of the injuries was regarded as critical.

The four-motor plane was flying from Paris to New York with 29 passengers when it ran into foul weather after leaving Gander, Nfld. Arriving over Idlewild airport in New York, the pilot was instructed to backtrack to Logan airport at Boston because of poor landing conditions.

The plane was reported to have run low on fuel over eastern Connecticut and the pilot circled the farm of Valentine Sebastian in a driving rain.

The plane made a belly landing, skidded into a small tree and a garage and ripped open. No fire broke out until the occupants were free of their safety belts and were being assisted to safety by firemen.

Sailor Duke Salutes Before North Flight

The Queen's sailor husband doffed his gold-braided Admiral of the Fleet uniform at Kemano today for civvies and a construction worker's "hard hat." This afternoon he inspected giant smelters at Alcan's $200,000,000 Kitimat development. Earlier he saw gigantic turbines, fed by water from 10-mile mountain-piercing tunnel, at subterranean powerhouse deep in Kemano's Mt. DuBose. This evening, HRH will fly to Vancouver to attend British Empire Games. He'll fly north again Sunday to continue his "stag tour" of Canada's mushrooming northlands.

No Game Tonight

Pro Ball Dead in City; Franchise Back to WIL

By RON COULTER

Victoria has lost professional baseball.

And what could conceivably be a deadly blow has been struck at the foundation of the Western International Baseball League.

Some 300 fans who paid admittance to Monday night's game here at Royal Athletic Park between the Victoria Tyees and Salem Senators probably saw the last professional baseball game in Victoria for several years.

ATTENDANCE DOWN

At a board of directors' meeting this morning it was decided that, due to very poor attendance at home this season, the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Club Ltd. could not carry on further, club president Arthur Cox told The Times today.

Thus, Victoria joins Calgary and Spokane on the sidelines, Calgary and Spokane encountered financial difficulties earlier this season and as a consequence dropped from the league in June.

Club directors made no announcement today regarding the books of tickets covering remaining home games sold recently at a reduced price. It was reported by one director an announcement would be made Wednesday.

Mr. Cox said that League president Bob Abel had been notified that due to unfavorable circumstances the Victoria club has been forced to forfeit their franchise to the league.

The action is immediate and there will be no game tonight or in the future here.

FANS THANKED

Mr. Cox said "the directors regret very much being forced to take this step" and thanked fans and others who assisted the club.

He said "there is just not sufficient money to carry on," and added the directors are grateful for the job done by manager Don Pries.

Tyees had only five home games in June, due to city outside workers' strike and the loss of Calgary and Spokane to the league.

While the strike was in effect, Tyees switched some home games to Vancouver and worked on a percentage basis. Another series was transferred to Wenatchee, and attendance there was so low that money was lost.
